House Races Clock To Avert Rail Strike

WASHINGTON (AP) — High government sources expressed confidence today that Congress will whip out legislation in time to avert a nationwide rail strike threatened for one minute after midnight.

Racing the clock, the House takes up legislation ground out Tuesday night by the Senate even as carriers and unions prepared for the possibility of a massive walkout.

The measure would force arbitration to settle the two big issues in the work rules dispute: The elimination of 32,000 firemen's jobs and how many men are needed to run a train.

Under the Senate measure, there would be 180 days for arbitration-negotiations before a strike could ensue if the lesser issues were still unsettled. Further congressional action might be requested then.

House leaders hoped to pass the measure and speed it to President Kennedy for signing before the strike deadline.

With the walkout threat just around the bend, the Senate inched out the throttle, beat down some other proposals and pushed through the emergency measure which is similar to one that had been drafted by the House Commerce Committee.

This is expected to simplify matters, for leaders plan to have the House take up the Senate bill as a substitute for its own version.

That way the House could pass the measure and send it straight to the White House, rather than returning it to the Senate for final action.

Rep. Oren Harris, D-Ark., chairman of the House Commerce Committee, expressed belief the House can act on the measure in time to block the strike which would tie up 195 railroads, practically every major line in the country.

Five operating unions representing the engineers, firemen, conductors, brakemen and switchmen have said they will strike the moment the railroads put into effect the job-cutting new work rules.

Last month, the carriers agreed to hold off on the new rules for 30 days to give Congress time to act in the dispute.

With time running out, the unions, carriers and the government began taking steps in case

Congress could not beat the deadline.

The Post Office Department announced an embargo on all but first class and air mail should the walkout occur.

It said second, third and fourth class mail would not be delivered more than 150 miles from the post office of origin. Air mail would continue on schedule and first class mail would be moved by alternative transportation.

The railroads announced an embargo on accepting freight effective at 12:01 a.m. local time

Thursday. A spokesman said most lines will stop handling freight before the strike deadline and will cancel passenger trains which would not reach their destination before the walkout is scheduled to begin.

In turning out its legislation Tuesday night by a 90-2 vote the Senate accepted a House plan to limit the legislation to only the two chief issues.

The two senators voting against the measure were Wayne Morse, D-Ore., and John G. Tower, R-Tex.

Yards At Wellsville Prepared For Strike

All operations at the Wellsville yards will be suspended by the Pennsylvania Railroad in event of a strike.

Notices have been received by the office workers and others that they will be suspended for the duration.

Between 75 and 100 men working out of Wellsville yards will be effected if the strike comes off. This includes 60 operating personnel.

Thousands Join March In Washington

Aim To Influence Congress To Pass Civil Rights Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Negroes and white supporters gathered today for a demonstration aimed at influencing Congress to enact a broad program of anti-discrimination legislation.

Area NAACP Units Send 12 To Capital

About 12 from the East Liverpool and Midland NAACP branches were to participate in "The March" today in Washington.

Five members of the Midland branch went by car to Pittsburgh Tuesday evening to join the Western Pennsylvania delegation, leaving by train at 12:30 this morning. They are scheduled to return to Pittsburgh by 12:30 a.m. Thursday morning. Will T. Leavel is president.

Seven members of the East Liverpool branch left by car early this morning to join the Youngstown delegation and go by bus.

Alonzo Spencer is president of the local branch, which is scheduled to return late tonight.

By rail, air and highways, they came pouring into the city for what sponsors called the "March on Washington for Jobs and Freedom."

At 9:45 a.m. EDT, by police estimate there were 25,000 demonstrators on hand. The gathering was obviously slow-paced by comparison with the advance estimates that 100,000 — maybe as many as 250,000 — would take part in the mile-long noontime march from the monument to the Lincoln Memorial.

At 9 a.m., 11 special trains had pulled in, carrying 5,300 demonstrators.

On the monument grounds there was a carnival atmosphere.

Here and there groups of bearded, guitar-playing folk singers performed. Soft drink and sandwich wagons were doing business. Women were selling brochures, priced at $1, entitled "We Shall Overcome."

By a striped canvas tent serving as headquarters for the march operation, a group was marching around in a circle, hand-clapping rhythmically and singing.

The whole area was heavily policed. Along a major part of Constitution Avenue, officers stood shoulder to shoulder. There were civil police and military police. Also available, if needed, were several thousand troops at military posts in the Washington area.

George Lincoln Rockwell, leader of the anti-Negro, anti-Jew American Nazi Party, showed up at daybreak on the fringe of the monument ground with about 40 young followers, and police promptly ringed them in a tight circle. The Nazis were not in uniform and Rockwell said they did not plan a counter-demonstration but would only act as observers.

Leaders of the march also were to meet with leaders of Congress on Capitol Hill before the march and then with President Kennedy at the White House after the demonstration.

Among the early arrivals was a Chicago truck driver, Ledger Smith, footsore and weary after roller skating from Chicago. He said he left home 11 days ago and skated about 70 miles a day.

High School Not Ready

Delay Looms For Start Of Southern Local Term

Southern Local District's school bells may not ring as scheduled Wednesday at the six buildings because the new $760,000 high school near Salineville is not yet fully equipped. The cornerstone laying of the building is planned Sunday.

Delay in delivery of classroom furniture and other finishing work may postpone school sessions until Sept. 9, Jack Baker, executive head, announced this morning.

Unless the furniture is delivered by Friday a postponement of the start of the school term will be ordered for the some 1,450 students in the district.

The delay would mean a few extra days of summer vacation for pupils at Salineville, Summitville, Wayne, No. 18 and Highlandtown schools, but would extend the spring term three days past the closing of school elsewhere in the county system.

Baker said classroom desks and chairs and furniture for the library has not yet been delivered, and shelving has not been put up in the library.

The gym floor is not ready, he said, and the terrace flooring elsewhere has not been cleaned and sealed.

Commercial office furniture and equipment has been delivered and installed, however.

The school office and personnel have been transferred from the former high school buildings at

County Home Given Grant For Hospital

The authorization of a $200,000 grant for a 40-bed addition for hospital patients at the Columbiana County Home and a $270,000 grant for a new sewage plant at Columbiana were announced today by Rep. Wayne L. Hays, 18th District congressman.

Rep. Hays, through his district secretary, Don R. Gosney of Columbiana, explained the funds for the hospital addition at the county home are part of the grants made available to hospital projects through the Hill - Burton Act.

The funds for the sewage plant, he said, came from the Accelerated Public Works Program of the federal government.

Two Miners Feared Drowning

5th Day Of Being Trapped Described As Worst By Throne

By HENRY THRONE

As told to The Associated Press
HAZLETON, Pa. (AP) — There were times when we saw people that weren't there and lights that weren't there and doors that weren't there.

Imagine seeing a door like a regular house door down in the bottom of a mine!

There was a time we heard rain and it really was rain coming down the drainage pipes and we thought the water would back up and flood the mine and drown us.

And while it was raining, I got mad—I must've been off my rocker a little—and I yelled at Davey. "Davey, I'm going home. I'm going alone if you don't want to come."

But, of course, I wasn't going anywhere. Not then. We were still more than 300 feet down. We still had a week to go before we could stand and walk again, not just sit and crawl, before we could breathe clear air again and see real light again.

But maybe I better start at the beginning. That's the only way I can get it clear in my own mind. So much got so mixed up later we couldn't tell day from the night or Monday from Sunday.

That first day, that Tuesday, Aug. 13, I went to work about 7:15 in the morning. It was a nice sunny day. I had no special thoughts, no hunches about something bad. It was just an ordinary working day.

We—that's David Fellin, Louis Bova and me—were got down in the hole about 7:30 and by 8 we had filled the first buggy (a small wagon carrying coal to the surface). We were on the bottom of the mine, in a tunnel, where the sump water collects. Davey and me were on the right side of the shaft and Louis was on the left, separated by the buggy tracks.

Louis rapped three times for the buggy to go up and it went up and dumped the coal. Coming down, it got only half way down. That's when the big rumble started. And all hell broke loose. The timbers on the wall next to us caved in and the timbers on the ceiling above us came down. We

Success Of Effort Uncertain

Drill Probing For Bova Grinds Into A Chamber

HAZLETON, Pa. (AP) — Rescuers, spurred by their success in raising Henry Throne, 28, and David Fellin, 58, from a coal mine cave in, drove a 12-inch shaft about 305 feet through earth, rock and coal into a void today, searching for Louis Bova, 54, missing since Aug. 13 in the same mishap.

Meanwhile drilling of two other probes was underway.

Mine officials said the drill on the 65-ton rig broke through into some kind of chamber about 6:15 a.m.

The officials said they would be unable to say if it was successful in reaching Bova until the drill pipe was removed and microphones and possibly a camera could be lowered, in a matter of hours. The drill started at 5:45 a.m. Tuesday, but drilling was halted by a six-hour breakdown.

Officials said they hit the void at the spot Fellin told them to drill. Fellin had also directed the miners where to sink a successful 18-inch escape shaft to him and Throne.

A three-inch probe reached 132 feet at 7 a.m., said officials. A six-inch shaft, started early today, hit 88 feet by 7 a.m.

Meanwhile mine officials said they plan to close the mine for safety reasons.

The six-inch shaft is similar to the one which reached Fellin and Throne Aug. 18 and served them as a life line until they were pulled to safety before a cheering throng Tuesday morning. Bova has had no food since the day of the cave-in, but may have some water from seepage.

we just sat there against the wall while the debris piled higher before us in the tunnel. The rumbling from the cave-in lasted that long. There were others later.

I hollered for Louis but there was no answer. After a while we started crawling over the debris. All our tools—the picks, the bars, the shovels and our lunch packs—were lost under the pile except for a mason hammer and a hatchet. The hammer broke soon after we'd been down. All we had was a hatchet to cut our way over the junk.

We started crawling around in the dark looking for a way out. We were lost. But we kept crawling around like that for almost six days looking for a way out.

To keep warm, I'd sit with my legs spread and Davey would sit between my legs with his back to me and I'd breathe on his back and neck. All the time we're rocking back and forth, also to keep warm. Then Davey would switch and do the same for me. We'd do this for 5 or 10 minutes at a time. Then we'd stop but only for five minutes, say, because then we'd be cold again. Most times it felt like about 30 degrees above zero.

To keep warm, we'd sleep face to face with our arms around each other. We'd sleep maybe a half hour and then the cold would wake us and we'd start rocking again to get some circulation.

I'd sleep. I'd wake up. And I'd

Little Hope Held For 25 Entombed In Mine In Utah

MOAB, Utah (AP)—Rescuers ran into deadly carbon monoxide gas today in the depths of a potash mine in which 25 men were entombed by an explosion.

Presence of the gas further dimmed already slim hopes the men would be found alive.

State Mine Inspector Steve Hatis said the gas was discovered at the bottom of the 2,712-foot shaft, one of the largest and deepest in North America.

The missing men are somewhere beyond and below that level in one of two lateral tunnels extending from the base of the main shaft.

Before rescuers can go farther, Hatis said, they must establish a new air supply in the main shaft, which goes straight down the distance of nearly 10 football fields.

He said this would involve installing new tubing in the bottom of the shaft and pumping in fresh air. The old tubing was destroyed by the explosion.

The mine inspector said it would take about five or six hours to complete the new ventilating system and continue the search.

However, Hatis held out hope the men might still be alive. He said they could have found air pockets in the two lateral tunnels in which they were working.

Frank Tippie, head of the potash division of Texas Gulf Sulphur Co., operator of the mine, said the rescue teams had not established contact with the trapped men.

Asked if there was any chance the men were alive, Tippie said: "I wouldn't even attempt a guess. I think there's a chance." He said they had been using dynamite.

More than 30 men were directly involved in the rescue attempt. They were going down one crew of three at a time, with crews rotating every half hour or so.

Tippie said the first crews down encountered gases and intense heat, generated by the blast.

He said an effort would be made to restore the ventilation system before rescuers started the actual job of searching for the missing men. There were hints it might take several days to find them.

The explosion, of undetermined origin, ripped through the mine at 4:50 p. m. Tuesday, catching the men apparently without warning in the two lateral tunnels.

The blast came a little more than an hour after the evening crew had descended to the two tunnels running downward at an angle from the main shaft.

Moab, a town of about 6,000, was stunned by the disaster.

Most of the miners commute the 23 miles from Moab to work. At one time, there were as many as 100 miners at the site. The figure has dropped steadily since the main shaft was completed in late February.

Trapped were employees of Harrison International of Miami, Fla., which was awarded a contract for sinking and underground development of the mine in April of 1961.

The mine is in the Colorado River Canyon, about 250 miles southeast of Salt Lake City. It's about 100 miles from the "Four Corners Area," the point where New Mexico, Colorado, Utah and Arizona meet.

Potash, or potassium carbonate, is widely used in the manufacture of chemical fertilizers.

Classes To Begin Wednesday

Enrollment Increase Seen For Schools In Wellsville

Wellsville's public schools will open next Wednesday with several improvements in the physical plant, innovations in the primary reading program and an increased enrollment.

The anticipated enrollment is 1,864, up about 60. Supt. Lowell Myers said the increase is due to a fulltime kindergarten program to be inaugurated and the general growth in the rural areas.

A PROGRAM will be held Friday from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. at MacDonald School for all first, second and third grade teachers to explain the reading program which will be supplemented with phonetics.

The entire process will be explained in detail. Two consultants from the Economy Co., suppliers of the texts, will hold discussions with the teachers.

New teachers will be welcomed at a breakfast to be held Tuesday at 8 a. m. Members of the Board of Education will feté the nine new instructors and welcome them to the system. Following the breakfast, they will be taken on a tour of the city.

William Menough, high school principal, will explain the historical background of Wellsville and John Mackov, MacDonald principal, will outline the special services available in the area. Wellsville's public schools will liam Ferrall, board president, will preside.

Besides the new instructors, two are returning after leaves of absence. There are no vacancies on

Barn, 1,300 Bales Of Hay Lost In Fire

Thirteen hundred bales of hay and a large amount of straw were destroyed in a blaze which leveled a barn at the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Kendall Baker of the Voadrey - Duke Rd. near Fredericktown late Tuesday night and injured one man.

Cause of the blaze — battled by Calcutta and Glenmoor fire departments — was not determined, and the total loss has not been estimated.

Rums of the barn continued to smolder late this morning at the site where a tanker truck had remained on duty during the night to prevent a new outbreak of the flames.

Increase Due In Enrollment

the staff, although Myers commented he would like to have hired a speech and hearing therapist and another guidance counselor.

A GUIDANCE counselor has

DAILY thru LABOR DAY 110th OHIO STATE FAIR
OHIO EXPOSITIONS CENTER COLUMBUS, OHIO

been obtained for the high school. He is Joseph Mayhew of East Liverpool. His office will be in the high school building. He will aid with problem students, do a followup study of students who have graduated, be responsible for testing, secure scholarships for students and give general advice to the students.

If another counselor could have been secured, he would have been used in Daw Junior High, Myers said.

Of the nine new instructors and two returning, five will serve in the elementary grades and six will be in the high school.

All the teachers will be working under a new salary schedule, adopted in the spring and effective in September.

Among the new instructors is Richard Wilson of East Liverpool, who will be recommended by Myers at the next board meeting as an industrial arts teacher.

THE SPECIAL classes for slower learning children has been enlarged this year. It will be at Fairview and will cover fourth, fifth and sixth grades. John Carter will be the teacher. He trained this summer at Kent State University.

New texts have been adopted for the mathematics course in the elementary grades, including seventh and eighth.

A study was made of the math program in the senior high, but it was decided to continue with the existing course.

The students will attend a full session opening day.

The enrollment by building is Garfield, 359; MacDonald, 391; Fairview, 173; McKinley, 57; Daw Junior High, 282, and High School, 602.

Myers said this will be the last year for tuition students from Southern Local District. The Southern Local Board ruled recently that students who have attended Wellsville High for the past three years may continue on and graduate if they so desire. Or they may attend the new school near Salineville. Fifteen from the district graduated in June from Wellsville and about as many remain, Myers said.

THE WORK done to the physical plant the past summer, conpled with that of the past few years is beginning to show, he said.

A marked improvement can be seen in the new windows which are being installed in the high school building and the installation of a new floor in the Beacom Memorial Gym.

Workmen are completing the installation of aluminum windows in the high school. They replace old wooden type. One new room of furniture also has been added to the high school and one of the boilers has been retubed.

A GENERAL cleaning has been done at all the buildings.

The old floor was ripped out of the gym and a new wooden strip floor laid. It is being coated with a plastic-type finish. This, along with the new lighting system installed earlier and the painting of the ceiling a brilliant white, makes the entire gym look like a new structure, he said.

The bleacher seats also were painted orange and black earlier and two large windows at one end of the gym were taken out and blocked in.

At Fairview new shrubbery has been planted, new concrete walks constructed and a new classroom of furniture added. Some painting also was done.

All the rooms have been repainted at McKinley. Some painting has been done at MacDonald, where a new classroom of furniture was added and some new concrete walks installed.

Three rooms of furniture have been added to Garfield, where some of the stone and brick trim and part of a parapet wall has been rebuilt.

The kindergarten classes will be held at Garfield. There will be classes in the forenoon and in the afternoon. Only a half-day session was held last year. An extra teacher also will serve at Garfield, making 12. A large amount of painting has been done in the building.

AT NICHOLSON Stadium, the pressbox was repainted. All the bleacher seats have been turned over, repainted and renumbered. The width of the seats was increased so there are now 18 to a row instead of 20.

New top soil was added to the field last year. It was reseeded this summer, but adding "The grass didn't grow so good."

Myers said there are brown patches in the field. A tract along the stadium was plowed and will be seeded this fall. It will be used as a practice field for the football team next year.

The public toilet facilities at the stadium have been repainted and renovated. Several unused windows and doors have been blocked up. There was a general cleaning.

The entrance to Daw Junior High was widened and flowers planted and a rock garden installed in a beautification program.

MYERS COMMENTED that money will not be available next summer for such extensive repairs that have been carried out. The money being used will have to go for teachers' salaries, he said.

The system will operate three buses, the same as last year. No major changes have been made in the routes.

Cafeterias will be operated at Fairview and the high school.

see all kinds of lights and the actual figures of people. They now tell me these were hallucinations but the crazy thing is that Davey would see these things the same time I did.

The lights and the figures always were in front of us but the more we crawled toward them the further away they got. For example, I saw this man, or the dark shape of a man with a light on his helmet. I yelled, "Show me some light over here! Over here!" Davey saw him too, but the shape of the man got smaller and smaller as we crawled toward him and then he was gone altogether.

The fifth day was the worst. I think that was the closest we came to death. That's when it started raining and we could hear it coming down the drainage pipes and we thought we'd be drowned. Thank God it rained only about 20 minutes.

But in that time I started running around wild. That's when I saw a door, just like a regular house door.

"Davey," I yelled, "let's go there."

I crawled as fast as I could toward it but suddenly I found myself bumping into just another piece of timber. That's when I got the bruise under my eye.

Fire

ericktown, brother of the barn's owner, was treated at City Hospital at 1:40 a. m. for burns of the forearms.

He attempted to remove a sprayer from the fire area when burned.

Mrs. Baker first noticed the blaze from her kitchen about 11:10 p. m., and the family removed a car and truck from the garage between the barn and house. She said flames were at the roof of the structure when she first saw it.

By the time firemen arrived, the barn was a roaring pillar of fire, which was seen as far away as Rogers, lighting the sky.

The Calcutta department had about 15 men at the blaze, along with two trucks, one of which received a damaged motor head and is out of operation. The Civil Defense truck from Glenmoor has been stationed at Calcutta for standby service.

Glenmoor had 10 men and two trucks at the scene, and the Liverpool East department was placed on standby during the fire.

Firemen reported there were no electric lines to the barn, and the hay and straw were dry to the extent that it is doubtful the blaze could have been ignited by spontaneous combustion.

Firemen played water all night on the garage to prevent the flames from burning it, and also wet down the nearby home at times.

The family said a small garden tractor in the barn was also destroyed.

Wellsville Continues School Sign Painting

The painting of crosswalks and school area warning signs should be completed today in Wellsville. Safety-Service Director Fred Baldasare said all the crosswalks are being painted prior to the opening of school next week.

The mechanical sweeper also will be used this afternoon from 4 to midnight. It will cover Riverside Ave. from 3rd to 9th Sts. and Center St. from 9th to 15th Sts.

Safeguard For Samaritans

The perplexing question of whether a doctor should stop at the scene of a disaster to render medical assistance has been resolved in New Jersey, which has joined some 20 other states in enacting a "good samaritan" law.

The New Jersey law shields medical practitioners — doctors, nurses, dentists, osteopaths — from civil suits arising from acts of mercy performed without remuneration.

Come Sept. 16, Ohio will go New Jersey one better. That's the effective date of a law enacted by the 105th General Assembly designed to afford protection from liability to anyone — not just a medical practitioner — who renders emergency assistance outside of a hospital or doctor's office.

DOCTORS, especially, need such protection. Every time a physician renders emergency medical care at the scene of an auto crash, for instance, he puts his practice in jeopardy because he can be sued if the victim dies or is maimed.

Why any family would react so oddly to an act of mercy defies explanation, but it happens. In fact, it happens with such frequency that doctors have become increasingly hesitant about volunteering their services and even are being advised by counsel and insurance companies to keep moving when they come upon a wreck.

The same liability has extended to private citizens outside the medical profession, even though they are less likely to be sued.

The Ohio law will clear the way for anyone to be a good samaritan in time of need without fear of the consequences.

BUT ABSOLUTION from civil suit does not give the private citizen license to "play doctor" at the scene of a mishap. The rule still should be to do what's necessary and nothing more — until medical help arrives.

Meanwhile, it wouldn't hurt to brush up on your knowledge of first aid, good samaritans.

A Real Asset

An approaching change in the superintendent's post calls attention to the many improvements that have taken place at Thompson Park over the years.

Through a well coordinated program, the park has emerged as one of the district's favorite recreation spots. And with continued careful supervision it should become even more popular as time goes by.

Thompson Park is an asset to which we can point with pride.

Kennedy's Favorite 'Whipping Boy'

It's becoming notorious that whenever there is serious trouble with the New Frontier's legislative program — as there is now — the administration opens a full-scale attack on the GOP leadership in Congress.

The latest blast at the Republicans is for the cut in foreign aid voted by the House of Representatives.

In his words to a press conference on the foreign aid subject some of the President's own words are open to dispute on factual grounds. He said: "The most disturbing aspect of today's House action is that, . . . this program experienced a shocking and thoughtless partisan attack by the Republican leadership on a program which both parties have consistently supported as being vital to our national security."

IN ARRIVING at the $3.5-billion figure, 66 Democrats including the chairmen of the three most powerful House committees, Ways and Means, Appropriations and Rules, were recorded as favoring the cut.

In the vote on final passage which sent the bill to the Senate, 52 Republican representatives voted with 170 Democrats to make up the necessary majority. The 222-188 tally was the sharpest numerical defeat yet suffered by the administration in the House.

The Democrats could not muster enough votes from their majority membership to pass the bill without the GOP's help so it is little wonder that President Kennedy was piqued and had to have a "whipping boy" on whom to vent his wrath.

Drama In The Coal Mines

Even in an age when the drama of manned space ventures is fast becoming commonplace, the general public is quick to fasten its attention on the drama of human rescue.

So it has been the last two weeks during frantic efforts to free two miners from their dark prison 300 feet beneath a Pennsylvania coal field. And when those efforts paid off, the collective sigh of relief that greeted the rescue rivaled the public joy that accompanied the at-sea recoveries of our astronauts.

Like astronauts, miners are engaged in risky business. But unlike the men in space, the lives of the men underground are touched by publicity and fanfare only rarely — usually in time of tragedy.

Everyone was rooting for Dave Fellin and Henry Throne. Their ordeal, happily, turned into one of those rare "good-news" stories that gives all of us a lift.

Sea Shells

Few of us ever outgrow the urge to collect shells on the beach. Even fewer of us know what to do with the collection which has piled up by summer's end.

Salvador Dali is one exception — he groups shells by color and then piles them into tall glass apothecary jars for decoration. Frank Lloyd Wright used to use the "beautiful, infinitely various little houses" along with rare fabrics, flowers and antiques for table settings or as decorative accessories.

Mrs. George N. Kahn uses the shells she collects to make wall decorations. She doesn't stop with shells, either. Wildflowers, leaves and even weeds gathered on trips to the country are saved, and put to use in collages.

This passion for saving things is explained by Florence Kahn as stemming from a life spent in the city.

"As a city girl, every natural thing — flowers, shells, leaves — is precious to me. I used to play golf to relax from my job, but I would come back with golf bags filled with leaves or flowers I picked on the course. At the shore, I would collect boxes full of shells. I hated to throw them away, but the house was full of them. I finally hit upon the idea of preserving them in collages.

"To me, it seems like preserving the whole feeling of a holiday."

HOLIDAYS are precious to Mrs. Kahn, who is a fantastically energetic woman. She is a wife, mother, a competent Marketing Research analyst, an executive in her husband's firm, a student working for a Ph.D. in economics, and now, head of a second business which developed from her hobby. She will begin selling her nature collages in department stores in the fall.

She was an art major in college, but never wanted to hang her paintings. "I always saw something wrong with them." The collages were different, though. "I don't feel really responsible for them. I just assemble what is natural and beautiful in itself."

By Camille Dure

Even work with beautiful things requires a sense of design and a goodly amount of patience. Mrs. Kahn says: "You have to prepare for disappointment. Many times a flower dries in the wrong way, or the glue wrinkles and spoils the paper, or you see a mistake after gluing and it's too late to change it. I have to scrap about half the pieces I do, to meet my own standards."

Shells are easiest. They have the advantage of strong, beautiful shapes, and depth. Arranging them is also easier, because their rigidity allows fewer mistakes. There are more "ruinable" aspects to flower collages: With certain leaves or flowers, the color changes radically — and for the worse — in drying; glue may affect foliage or paper adversely; plant materials may shred or crumble with handling.

In many of the collages, she uses glided or colored plant materials such as wild Sarasaparilla or Queen Anne's Lace.

Backgrounds are as varied as the natural materials: painted canvas, silk cloth, grass cloth, straw, wood, wallpaper, and plain, bright colored art paper.

THE COLLAGES are assembled in her office in the Empire State Building, where she spreads her materials on a background, shifts them into a suitable realistic or stylized arrangement, and then glues the pieces in place. As a preservative, an almost transparent sheet of glue-impregnated rice paper is laid over the whole.

Later, collages are mounted and framed behind non-glare glass. The latest dressing-up of the collages is framing them in pretty, antique frames which she and her husband find in auctions and antique shops near their summer home in Maine.

'Nice View From Here, Eh, Comrade?'

President Wants No Labor Crises

By Victor Riesel

President Kennedy bitterly and angrily has told several national labor chiefs to prevail on some of their colleagues to stop putting him on the spot with a perpetual series of country-wide crises. In blunt language, he and his top advisers said the time had come for such union officials to cease using Victor Riesel the Chief executive as though he were a pawn.

White House insiders, exasperated by the rail crisis, believe that the office of the presidency has lost considerable prestige on the domestic front this last year because of a series of personal rebuffs to John Kennedy by strike leaders or those threatening to call crippling strikes.

Latest of the labor chiefs to embitter the President, the White House staff, the Secretary of Labor Willard Wirtz and others in the inner circle, is the little-known, guitar-playing almost-unmovable president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen.

He is Charles Luna, originally of Austin, Tex. His brotherhood represents almost half the operating railroad workers involved in the four-year rail conflict.

He began his national career in the brotherhood back in 1946 when he came on the union's convention scene in Miami Beach dressed in cowboy clothes and strumming a guitar. He serenaded many of the delegates during the eight-week gathering. When it was over he was a vice president.

IN 1960 he became the brotherhood's assistant president and succeeded W. P. Kennedy when the latter resigned—but only to fill out the rest of the term.

Now Luna must stand for election for a full term at the next convention in Miami Beach in '64. If he wins he will have a full four-year term of his own—and probably stay for life. But he must win first.

It was the unknown Luna who has been the toughest to deal with during the crisis. There was, for example, the moment early in July when President Kennedy, fearing a cataclysmic rail paralysis, had a long talk with Willard Wirtz. They decided something dramatic must be done.

Wirtz suggested offering the brotherhoods a chance to have Supreme Court Justice Arthur Goldberg settle the dispute. The justice is a great advocate of voluntary arbitration.

Mr. Kennedy personally lifted the phone and called Mr. Goldberg in the Virgin Islands. The justice listened, asked what Willard Wirtz thought, and was assured that the labor secretary certainly would not resent Mr. Goldberg's coming into the dispute.

The justice said he wanted to think about it. Later he agreed and flew back to the U.S. mainland.

THE NEXT MORNING the leaders of the five on-train unions were in the White House. They had not been consulted. However they could not have gotten fairer treatment than the justice would have given them. The man who led the revolt against President Kennedy was Charles Luna—though the President had already made the public announcement. President Kennedy was deeply insulted.

Weeks of new infighting followed. Finally leaders of the firemen, engineers and conductors began indicating they were ready for some sort of arbitration to avoid a national strike on some Class A railroads.

Then in mid-August came the day when Willard Wirtz was able to put enough on paper to get agreement on arbitration from all sides—or so it seemed that dreadfully wearing hour.

Wirtz's documents had blank spaces which were to be filled in by the railroad and union negotiators with the language each side wanted, spelling out certain details.

After four long years, it would have been over. Both sides were to return to the White House at 11 o'clock the next morning. At 9 a.m. Willard Wirtz telephoned the railroad company representatives. He told them it was useless.

CHARLES LUNA had again protested. No one had been able to do anything with him. Not even AFL-CIO president, George Meany, who also thought the crisis was over.

With Luna in the lead, the other unions then came in with new arguments.

Wirtz, sleepless, fatigued, and sharply disappointed, had to inform the President of the new upheaval. He also told the rail executives he was so outraged and disgusted by what had happened, he would not even bring the new demands to the table.

All along, Luna's position was that the unions could get more with a strike than from arbitration.

This is the story of other strikes—such as the December one billion dollar East Coast dockworkers' stoppage which the President had tried to avert with a personal phone call to the longshoremen's leader—only to be rebuffed.

So the President has sent word he no longer wants to be put on the spot. Congress does not want to be put on the same spot.

The word is that if there is another tough national labor crisis, there will be tougher legislation. We'll see.

March Will Leave Imprints

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

Today's giant civil rights march—provided there is no violence to change the picture — doesn't figure to impress Congress much although it will leave imprints on whites and Negroes.

One of the purposes of the demonstration, besides protesting racial injustices, was to try to pressure Congress into passing President Kennedy's civil rights bill.

But, orderly or not, it will not change Southern Democrats' opposition. Others in House and Senate have already made up their minds on how they will vote, either out of conviction or what they think is politically shrewd.

That leaves the fence-sitters to impress. They, too, will do what they think is right or expedient. A completely orderly march might affect some of them favorably.

If white prejudice with all its discrimination didn't exist, North and South, there would be no need at all for this march of Negroes demanding equal treatment almost 100 years after the Civil War.

But the march itself, and the demands of the speakers, won't dent the prejudices built up over lifetimes and generations. Some of the prejudiced will resent the Negro even more for asserting himself.

What the march will certainly do, if there is no disorder to confuse the problem, is demonstrate the Negro is fed up waiting for the same treatment white people get and has learned how to demand it through collective effort.

He couldn't do any demanding until nine years ago when the Supreme Court declared the principle of segregation itself unconstitutional. The law was against him. All he could do was chip away through law suits.

Even so, the prejudiced, with the law now on the side of the Negro, have refused to end the various discriminations until compelled to. The Negro has had to ram them with sit-ins, street demonstrations, picketing.

It was in doing so that Negroes came to the realization they were helpless individually but together could hasten what they wanted.

This march in Washington today is simply a kind of dramatic climax to that realization.

Kennedy's Error

By David Lawrence

Partisanship Charged Against President

President Kennedy has made serious mistakes in tactics while trying to get the foreign aid bill through Congress. He now has compounded his error by seeking to put the blame on the Republican leadership for the cut in foreign aid voted by the House of Representatives. Some of his words, given at a hastily assembled news conference, are open to dispute on factual grounds. He said:

"The most disturbing aspect of today's house action is that, for the first time since the end of World War II, this program experienced a shocking and thoughtless partisan attack by the Republican leadership on a program which both parties have consistently supported as being vital to our national security."

Those lines give the impression that the Republican leaders voted against the whole foreign-aid program. They did not do so. The four Republican leaders in the House, together with 48 other Republican members, actually joined with 172 Democrats the same day to approve the foreign aid bill and send it to the Senate.

Without those 52 Republican votes, even the reduced foreign aid authorization would have failed. This wasn't noted in the President's blast at the Republicans.

Later on in the same statement, the President supplemented his attack on the Republican leadership with a criticism of the Republican members of the house as a whole. He said:

"In the key vote on foreign assistance today, only nine per cent of the Republican members of the House supported this program which has hitherto commanded bipartisan support, and I reiterate again, time and again, this program had bipartisan support in the years of the '50s. The danger is just as great today. I see no reason why the program and its bipartisan support should be destroyed."

MR. KENNEDY forgot that, as a member of the House and then of the Senate in the 1950s, he, too, voted for cuts in the foreign aid programs proposed by Presidents Truman and Eisenhower.

It is true, moreover, that bipartisan support and the program itself are really in danger today of being destroyed?

The bill on final passage in the House called for $3.5 billion. This still is a large sum, and the President himself had done some cutting from his original request for $4.9 billion.

He revised the figure down to $4.5 billion when a commission he had appointed advised that the amount could be cut.

Later, further cuts were made by the House Foreign Affairs Committee, bringing the total down to $4.1 billion.

Was a cut of less than 15 per cent of that sum—which occurred in what the President calls a "key vote"—the same thing as destroying the whole foreign aid program?

If the Republicans were guilty of partisanship when they voted with a bloc of 66 Democrats to reduce the amount from $4.1 to $3.5 billion, how shall the 66 members of the President's own party be classified? Are they, too, to be called "partisan"?

If those 66 Democrats, which included the Democratic chairman of three committees of the House—the Ways and Means, the Appropriations and Rules, respectively—are added to the 172 Democrats who already favored the amount that the foreign affairs committee recommended, this could have provided a sufficient majority to pass the measure in the form the White House desired.

Aren't these three committee chairmen Democratic leaders?

IT'S HARDLY logical to issue an intemperate statement attacking the Republicans and their leaders when there were enough Democrats and their leaders in the House who didn't follow the President but who could have assured passage of the bill he wanted.

As for the handling of the Republicans, the President was blundered. Either he has been too busy to watch the situation carefully himself, or he has been badly advised.

For one thing, he never has invited the Republican leaders to conferences at the White House on the foreign aid program. President Eisenhower used to invite the Democratic leaders for breakfast regularly to talk things over.

Also, it happens that foreign aid is unpopular today in the country generally and has been for some time.

The appropriations in recent years have been passed with difficulty, too, because in reality the American people have grown tired of what, in some instances, is regarded as international blackmail and extortion.

Apart from the troubles that the foreign aid program runs into—especially with so many interests at home pressing for bigger appropriations out of an already unbalanced budget—it's important for a president of the United States to steer a careful course himself in congressional affairs if he expects bipartisan support.

IN THIS connection, the comment of Rep. Glenn Cunningham, R-Neb., becomes pertinent. He called attention to the fact that former Rep. Walter Judd, R-Minn., was for years the most articulate and persuasive spokesman for foreign aid in the House and had won over to his side many of his fellow Republicans. Mr. Glenn added:

"Then last year, Kennedy went up and purged him. On the very day we were debating the foreign aid bill, and Judd was there arguing for it, Kennedy was in his district speaking against him. That was the nub of Kennedy's defeat."

The President's trouble is that sometimes he himself is too partisan—or, to put it another way, he isn't non-partisan enough.

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

TWENTY YEARS AGO — The Board of Education approved a budget of $434,500 for 1944.

Lt. Harry Tobin of Monroe St. was given charge of the chemical department of the factories and foundries of the Henry J. Kaiser interests in Los Angeles.

More than 1,500 pupils were expected to return to the Midland public schools on opening day in September, Ralph H. Jewell, superintendent, announced.

TEN YEARS AGO — A 975-pound Hereford, raised by James Phillips of near Salem, was grand champion in the 4-H Club event at the annual Columbiana County Fair in Lisbon.

A goal of $14,057 was set for the Midland Area Charities Drive in October.

Letter To The Editor

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

Due to recent events dealing with the appointment of a patrolman in Wellsville, the Negro there is wondering just how much prejudice and bias exist in our city government.

If the white man cannot dispense equal and fair treatment among himself, what am I as a Negro to expect when I deal with him? A few days ago a city disposal truck worker was laid off or fired. I at first thought maybe he wasn't doing his job. Now I wonder just how much of his dismissal was caused due to prejudiced feeling.

One should not forget that the power of public office is to be for the people and by the people. It is my opinion that the appointment of a patrolman was not fairly carried out. It seems that Charles Amato with a higher civil service test score, Army police duty, years of extra police duty on the force and one who has endangered his life in the line of duty is a victim of biased feelings.

I myself have felt the sting of prejudice. I was fired from the Ohio Highway Department because of political prejudice. And I am quite sure that the main reason I haven't found another job is due to color prejudice.

Besides the moral issue in the police department affair, there is also the question of competent police protection. Can we have good protection while the present method, which can be dictated by prejudice and bias, is being used?

There was no evidence of foul play, the coroner said. Her car was found nearby and she was identified through a check made on the vehicle.

A coroner's jury has been impaneled to investigate. But the case has been continued for at least 10 days to give time to make a full investigation. It probably will convene during the week of Sept. 8, Herron said.

The area is just off Route 66 at the Cowl Farm. There are two lakes on either side of the highway. They were formed by a dam at the mouth of Tomlinson Run at the Ohio River.

Miss Luella Thompson, president, said the pre-campaign will get under way Sept. 16, with the kick-off dinner scheduled Sept. 20 at the Travelers Hotel. Headquarters will be on the mezzanine of the hotel and the drive will close Sept. 28.

The association is striving for a 1,000 membership this year so that the five concerts already approved may be engaged. The tentative schedule is Tuma Opera Players, Oct. 20; Stecher and Horowitz, duo-pianists, Nov. 17; Pittsburgh Symphonietta, Dec. 8; Tong Il Han, pianist, Jan. 5, and Leslie Guinn, baritone, Feb. 2.

Mrs. Joseph E. Hall, executive secretary, announced that anyone desiring to assist in the campaign may contact the Board of Directors.

The campaign will be conducted by the association this year with no representative from Civic Music headquarters in an advisory capacity.

The area will cover Midland, Chester, Newell, Wellsville, Irondale, East Palestine and Lisbon.

Miss Thompson said the board will meet in the near future to map further plans.

Beagle Judging Detailed For Chester Kiwanians

The precise evaluation of the merits of dogs entered in top-level show competition was described by Paul R. Johnston, Chester barber and beagle fancier, during a meeting of the Chester Kiwanis Club Tuesday night.

Johnston related his experiences as a judge at the annual specialty beagle show of the Canadian Kennel Club at Toronto in June.

Johnston, an American Kennel Club judge, was the third and the youngest man from the United States to judge in the Canadian event.

The Canadian Kennel Club, organized in 1890 and the oldest in Canada, has the only specialty beagle show in Canada, the object being to select the outstanding beagle in the nation.

He said there were 47 of the finest beagles in Canada entered and it took him three hours to judge the dogs from the tip of the nose to the tail. He said each entry had a number and the names of the owners were not known to him.

In fact, he said, he met only two men connected with the show before he entered the ring, and neither had dogs entered.

A silver bowl, "probably worth thousands of dollars," was awarded the winner to retain for one year, he said.

"The show was the high spot of my career because beagles are my hobby," he concluded. He was introduced by DeMar Miller, program chairman.

Lee Adams, president, named R. M. McFarland, Ray Stevens and Eugene Seely as a committee to study the possibility of holding weekly meetings at the Community Building in the City Park.

Twenty-one attended.

Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox was the first batter to hit a ball over the right field pavilion at Tiger Stadium in Detroit. He did it in 1939 as a rookie.

Salineville — now the Salineville Grade School — to the new building along Route 39.

Bus schedules will be based on pickup and delivery of elementary youngsters to the five grade schools before pickup and delivery of high school students, Baker said.

The high school will operate daily from about 8:55 a. m. to 3:55 p. m. with the elementary buildings operating from about 8:30 to 3:30, according to tentative plans.

There are 15 buses in the district. Some 400 students will attend the high school, requiring eight or 10 buses to return to the high school to transport those students.

At the new football field, work is progressing on installation of lights for the first night football game Sept. 7 with Greenford.

Members of the Boosters Club are installing the six poles and lights obtained from the Graybar Electric Co. of Canton at a cost of about $5,000.

A refreshment stand is erected, and a ticket booth is being built.

The public cornerstone ceremony will be held at 3 p. m. with Ohio Masonic Lodge officers participating. The building will be open for inspection afterwards.

Robert Skinner, president of the Board of Education, and Thomas Leek, principal, will participate and the Southern Local Band, with Charles Temple, director, in charge will lead the procession and play selections during the program.

Pilgrim Commandery 55 of Knights Templar of East Liverpool, assisted by representatives of visiting commanderies, will post the colors and the pledge of allegiance will be led by Lewis Higginbotham, head coach.

Ralph M. Francisco of Dayton, Grand Master of Masons of Ohio, will preside at the cornerstone laying. Salineville Masonic Lodge will be in charge. Refreshments will be served after the tour of the building.

An Ohio State fullback has been the rushing leader in Big Ten football in four of the past five years. Bob Ferguson led the conference twice and David Francis and Bob White once each.

will replace the present old facility, and is to be erected adjacent to the present plant in the western part of the village.

Gosney said the original idea on seeking funds for the hospital project at the County Home was proposed by Frank Wilson of Wellsville when he was serving as county commissioner, and the grant resulted from his efforts.

Glenmoor Area Fire Hits Tractor, Garage

About $800 damage was caused to a farm tractor and garage building at the R. & R. Coal Co. tippie on the Y. & O. Rd. near Rock Camp Tuesday afternoon about 3, Glenmoor firemen reported.

The blaze broke out when a youth was cleaning the motor of the tractor and gasoline ignited, firemen said. About 10 men from the Glenmoor department answered the alarm.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Martin of Frischkorn Addition, Wellsville, and her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Coen of Shady Side Ave., East Liverpool.

The Rev. William Hewitt, former pastor of the church, officiated for the double - ring ceremony before an altar banked with white gladiolus, mums and ferns and a seven-branch candelabra. White satin bows and ivy marked the family pews.

Miss Mary Falconer presented a half-hour of pre-nuptial music and Miss Shirley Andrews sang "Because," "Oh, Promise Me" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father. She wore a full-length gown of silk organza, fashioned with a fitted bodice styled with a scalloped neckline and short sleeves. A large bow accented the back and fell into a chapel train. Her only jewelry was a star sapphire pendant. Her princess crown of pearls and crystals held a fingertip veil of silk illusion. She carried a cascade bouquet of orchids, stephanotis, glads and ivy.

All the familiar traditions were observed, including a sixpence in her shoe. It was sent to her by former classmates, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Tipton, who now reside in England.

Miss Carol Skeens was maid-of-honor. Bridesmaids were Misses Judy Reight and Janet Taggart. Miss Linda McGaffie was junior bridesmaid.

They appeared in dresses of silk organza, designed with bell skirts and over jackets, which were styled with short sleeves, a V-shaped back and streamers extending to the hem. Their picture hats were of the same material and color as their dresses. They carried gold and white baskets of orchids, shasta daisies, ivy and net fluffs. White gloves and pearl pendants were gifts of the bride.

Miss Robin Boyce, cousin of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a white silk organza dress over taffeta with an orchid cummerbund and carried a basket of orchid petals.

Don Hozolet was best man and ushers were Dave Davies and Wilbert Jones. Jim Coen, brother of the bridegroom, was junior usher and Randy Martin, the bride's brother, was ring bearer.

MRS. C. B. COEN
She Was Terry Jean Martin.

The mother of the bride chose a blue lace dress designed with a fitted jacket and three-quarter-length sleeves. A corsage of white carnations and pink rosebuds and accessories to match her dress completed her attire. The bridegroom's mother was attired in a beige sheath with a lace jacket and white accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations and yellow rosebuds.

Honored guests were the bride's paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Martin. She wore a three-piece ensemble of light blue crepe with white accessories and a white carnation corsage.

A reception for 150 in the Hillcrest Community Hall followed the ceremony. A buffet table covered with white linen was centered with a five-tier wedding cake made by Roy Groom, employer of the bride. The cake was surrounded by orchids and fern and was topped by a miniature, bridal couple. The hall was decorated with orchid and white streamers and wedding bells.

Aides were Mrs. Marie Curry, Mrs. Phyllis Stalder, Mrs. Marilyn Wood, Mrs. Martha Reight and Miss Jean Reight. Groom cut and served the cake. Mrs. Marge Davis, assisted by Miss Pam Stalder, registered the out-of-town guests from East Liverpool, Clyde, Toronto, Midland, Richmond, West Point, Irontide and Upper Sandusky.

For her going-away costume, the bride wore a three-piece linen suit with white accessories and her bridal orchids. She is a 1961 graduate of Wellsville High School and is employed at the Lily Pastry Shop in Wellsville. Her husband was graduated from East Liverpool High School and served three years in the Army. He operates Coen's Service Station on Clark Ave., Wellsville.

International Relations Discussed By Rotary Guest

S. N. McIntosh of Millersburg told the Rotary Club Tuesday the "way to ease tensions throughout the world today is for better understanding of the people involved." He emphasized the part of Rotary in international understanding.

The club's District 665 governor said in his official address at its luncheon meeting at the Travelers Hotel there are two "very sober facts" to consider:

1. — Never in history has a situation existed as does today, whereby two opposing powers have the capacity and ability to destroy humanity, and 2. — history proves that governments cannot provide settlements for situations which exist in the world today in such places as Korea, South Viet Nam, Laos and Cuba.

"The way to ease tensions throughout the world is to know the people better. Once the people are known, we can better understand their actions. Never before have we been in need of better international relations," he said.

The international president of Rotary, Carl Miller, has emphasized this as a service of the organization, he said.

"With Rotary clubs spreading throughout the world it is hoped that with single objectives and ideas in mind, at least the members of these clubs will learn to better understand their counterparts in the other parts of the world, and that this better understanding will spread throughout each community."

He pointed out that Rotary is a growing organization, not only in number but in quality of membership and influence. He said that Rotary is now active in 129 countries of the world, and has over half a million members. Since July of 1962, there has been an average of a new club formed every 20 days.

Couple In 2 Cars Separates On Trip

Despite the best efforts of the police department and the Columbiana County Motor Club, a young woman continued on a trip to Van Wert Tuesday afternoon without being reunited with her husband, from whom she became separated while the couple was traveling west on U. S. Route 30 in separate cars.

Mrs. Louise Sinks told Patrolman Charles A. Winters she was concerned for the whereabouts of her husband, Ted, principally because she was carrying all the couple's funds and he was left without money to buy food or gasoline.

She walked into the police station here yesterday morning about 9:30 with her plea for help in locating her husband. It sounded like a simple problem, but more than five hours later the missing man still had not been found.

Mrs. Sinks continued on her way shortly before 2, expecting to stop at every police station and State Highway Patrol post along the route to explain her story in case the husband stopped in search of her.

Mrs. Sinks explained her husband is an ex-serviceman. The couple and their two sons returned to the United States a few weeks ago from France, where he had been stationed several years.

They started to drive from New York City to Van Wert to visit relatives. Then they planned to continue on to Missouri. Mrs. Sinks was driving a small French-made car and her husband was operating an American-made auto of 1956 vintage. Both carry French auto license tags.

Their 15-year-old son was traveling with his father while another son, about 14, was riding with his mother.

All went well until the couple stopped in a gasoline station late Monday night or early Tuesday to refill the tanks. Mrs. Sinks was not positive of the location, but thought vaguely it was "about 26 miles out of Pittsburgh."

Sinks pulled out of the station first. About a half a dozen other cars followed before Mrs. Sinks was able to pull onto the highway to trail her husband. She expected to catch up with him again soon, but never saw him again.

Hoping against hope, she continued driving west on Route 30. Finally, she decided to stop in East Liverpool to seek help in locating her husband.

Officer Winters, the deskman to whom she told her story, enlisted the aid of H. J. English, assistant manager of the auto club, in attempting to locate the missing husband.

The patrolman first called the Carnegie and Rochester posts of the Pennsylvania State Police. The Carnegie barracks, after an investigation, learned that Sinks' car broke down about 1:30 a. m. in Greensburg, Pa.

He pulled onto a used car lot there and made repairs himself, as he is a mechanic. Then he drove away. He could not be traced beyond that point.

The State Highway Patrol post at Lisbon was asked to broadcast a statewide alert for Sinks, including the license number and a description of his car. But the patrol explained it could not broadcast such an alarm unless it was a death message or if it was feared that Sinks might have been the victim of foul play.

Officer Winters instructed Mrs. Sinks to park her auto along the Freeway so that her husband would spot it if he passed. That proved to be no help either.

Mrs. Sinks explained that the couple converted all their ready cash into travelers' checks before starting the trip. She was carrying all the checks, she explained, so that her husband would have no funds to buy gas or food after the two became separated. She feared he would become stranded unless they were reunited.

Change Gives 'Point' Cases To City Court

Under a new state law effective in September, Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff will begin handling the cases of motorists in his jurisdiction who have been cited for suspension of their operator's permits by the State Bureau of Motor Vehicles under

Ohio's so-called 12-point "demerit system."

The change was set up in an act approved at the last session of the State Legislature. It removes the responsibility for handling the 12-point cases from Common Pleas Courts and turns it over to Municipal Courts and district County Courts.

Judge Chertoff, explaining some of the provisions of the new law today, said he will handle cases which are certified to him by Prosecuting Atty. G. William Brokaw.

The local court's primary jurisdiction includes the city and adjoining Liverpool Township. The three county courts at Lisbon, East Palestine and Salem will handle the balance of the 12-point cases.

Under the state law, when a driver accumulates 12 or more demerit points, his case is referred to a court in his local area for disposition.

Most moving violations call for two points. But conviction of such offenses as hit and run, manslaughter and drunken driving rack up six points each.

Since the 12-point law took effect several years ago, the drivers' cases were referred to Common Pleas Courts.

Driver Fined, Jailed On Unsafe Operation

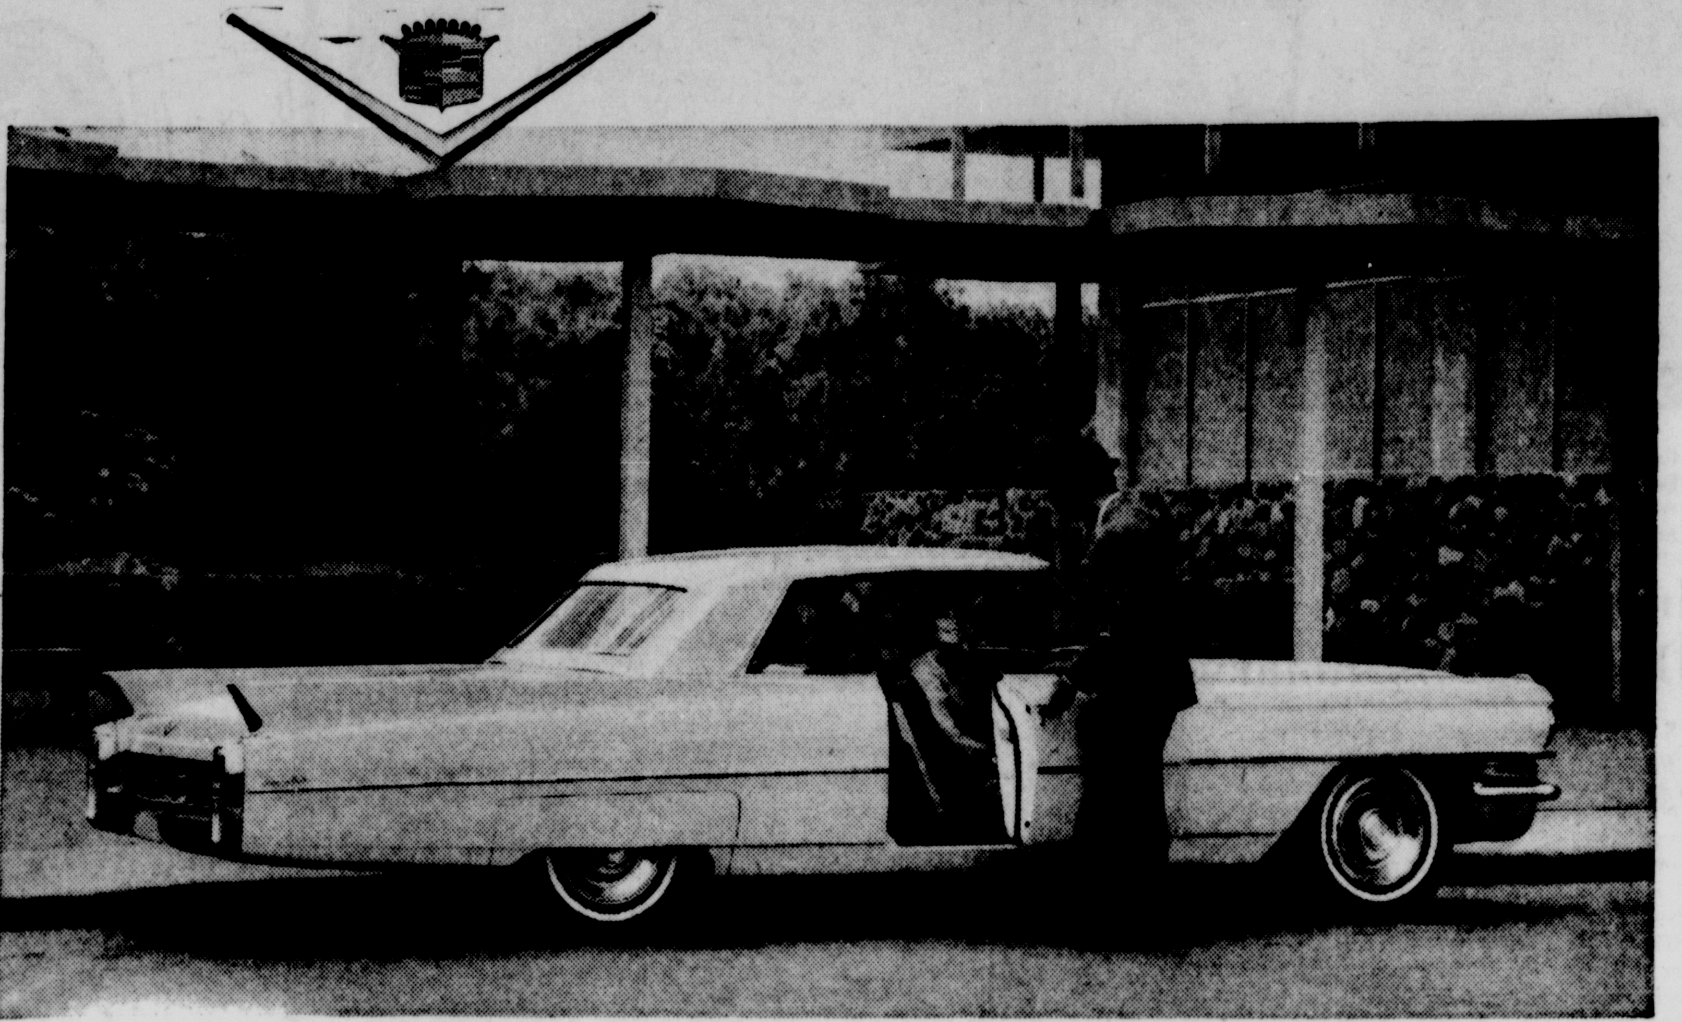

Merle Tice, 23, of Box 56, Hammondsville, was handed a stiff fine and jail sentence on a charge of unsafe operation at a hearing Tuesday night before

County Judge Augustus Evans at Toronto.

Tice was fined $200 and costs and sentenced to 30 days in jail. The judge also suspended his driver's license for a year.

Tice was arrested by the Wellsville State Highway Patrol.

Howard's 2-Run HR Sinks Reds, 3-2; Giants Win

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer
Willie Mays has the world on a string, but that hasn't kept the San Francisco Giants from riding a yo-yo in that National League pennant race.

Mays became the 10th major leaguer to reach the 400-homer level when he connected in the third inning Tuesday night, triggering a homer salvo that powered the Giants to a 7-2 victory over St. Louis and into a second-place tie with the Cardinals.

Both the Giants and Cardinals are 6½ games back of pacesetter

Los Angeles. The Dodgers, who have held the top spot without interruption since July 2, edged Cincinnati 3-2 as Frank Howard slugged a key two-run homer.

Mays has been trying to keep the Giants within striking distance, but the defending champions have been going up-and-down with such regularity that they actually have lost ground while Willie has hit safely in 27 of 28 games.

On July 28, Willie was hitting .274 with 22 homers and 55 runs batted in. Since then he has hit 10 homers, driven in 31 runs and brought his average up to .308—and the Giants have fallen from 4½ back to 6½ behind.

While Willie was collecting his 32nd homer, Hank Aaron took over the league lead from the Giants' Willie McCovey. Aaron hit his 35th and Warren Spahn posted his 17th victory in Milwaukee's 3-2 decision over Houston.

Elsewhere, the Chicago Cubs edged Philadelphia 4-3 and Pittsburgh defeated the New York Mets 2-1.

The New York Yankees stretched their American League lead to 12½ games by beating Boston 5-0 and 3-0, the Chicago White Sox belted Cleveland 6-1, Detroit downed the Los Angeles Angels 4-1 and Kansas City nipped Baltimore 2-1 in 10 innings. Minnesota and Washington were not scheduled.

An error by Ken Boyer helped the Giants to a 3-0 lead in the second inning against Curt Simmons, 11-7, before Mays connected leading off the third. Orlando Cepeda followed with his 21st homer and Felipe Alou made it three in a row with his 16th. That was more than enough for Jack Sanford, who scattered eight hits for a 13-12 record. Julian Javier's two-run homer accounted for the Cardinals runs.

Howard's homer, the first for Los Angeles in nine games, gave the Dodgers a 2-1 lead in the second inning. Then, mustering two of their five hits, the weak-hitting Dodgers put across the decisive run in the third on singles by pitcher Pete Richert and Maury Wills, a wild pitch by Bob Purkey, 6-9, and Wally Moon's grounder. Johnny Edwards homered for the Reds in the fourth but Richert, 2-1, and Ron Perranoski pitched scoreless ball the rest of the way.

Spahn, 17-5 and headed for his 13th 20-victory season, shook off a shaky start and recorded his fifth straight complete game victory behind Aaron's hitting. Aaron tied the score with a two-run homer off Don Nottebart, 8-4, in the fourth, before scoring the tie-breaking run in the ninth when he singled, stole second and came around on singles by Mathews and Joe Torre.

Mays Reaches Famed Circle On 400 HR's

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Willie Mays isn't very excited about becoming the 10th major leaguer and first right-handed National League slugger to hit 400 home runs.

"My first homer was just as important," Willie said Tuesday night after No. 400 helped his San Francisco Giants to a 7-2 victory over St. Louis. "If I hadn't ever hit that one I probably wouldn't have been here for this one."

Mays connected with a Curt Simmons delivery in the third inning and powered it off the top rail of the right field fence and into the crowd.

It was his 32nd of the year and came during a red-hot streak in which Mays is batting .432 this month. He has hit in 12 straight games, 27 of 28, and raised his average to .307.

At his career rate, the 32-year-old center fielder seems likely to erase former Giant Mel Ott's National League record of 511 home runs.

But Mays replied, "Don't ask me," when questioned about his chances of getting that record.

Told that he was the first National League right-hander to join the 400 Club, Mays shrugged his shoulders and said, "That's great, I guess."

Browns Must Cut 6 Players

PALO ALTO, Calif. (AP)—The Cleveland Browns must cut six players from their roster to get down to the league limit of 37 two weeks from today. Coach Blanton Collier admits the job will be tough.

Beaver Local 7th-8th Team To Get Exams

Lloyd Stockdale, coach and athletic director at the Beaver Local Elementary School, has announced that all 7th and 8th grade boys who plan to play football this year are to report for a physical examination after school Wednesday, Sept. 4.

Examination will be by Dr. Melbourne Barnett. Parents are reminded that they are to pick the boys up after the examinations for transportation home.

Football League," Collier said after the Browns held their first practice session of the week Tuesday. "Now we have to decide on the makeup of the squad."

Collier is faced with the job of deciding whether to keep seven receivers—including rookies Tom Hutchinson of Kentucky, the team's first draft choice, and Cliff McNeil of Grambling.

Collier also is pondering these choices:

"Can we afford to carry two centers? (John Morrow and Frank Morze) . . . Do we need four offensive tackles? (Dick Schaffrath, John Brown, Roger Shoals and Reed Bohovich, in addition to the injured Monte Clark) . . . Can we get by with two defensive ends (Bill Glass and Paul Wiggins) and carry an extra linebacker as a swing man (Jim Houston)?"

Rookie Dennis Budrowski of Memphis State is being carried as a third defensive end and may be one of those cut.

Denver Tourney Begins Thursday

DENVER (AP) — Touring pro golfers attack the Denver Country club's tree-lined, narrow fairways today in a pro-amateur tuneup for the start Thursday of the $40,000 Denver Open.

Bob Charles, the left-handed British Open champion, headed a field of 147 pros. Top money winners Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus and Julius Boros have other commitments.

Bob Goalby, winner of the 1962 Denver Open, said after a practice tour of the 6,774-yard, par 35-50 course that he thought the winning score this time would beat his three-under-par 277 a year ago.

After two rounds Thursday and Friday the field will be cut to the low 65 pros, plus ties, and 10 amateurs for the final rounds Saturday and Sunday.

POTTER BOARD OF STRATEGY. East Liverpool High football fortunes in 1963 will be guided by this grid staff which shows two new additions. The staff is made up this season of first row—left-to-right—Blaine Morton, former Salem High mentor who joined the Potter staff this season, head coach Bob Hedmond and Norm Six. Standing are Jim Potts, who was elevated to the varsity staff after serving at Westgate last year, Ray Peduzzi and Chuck Deshier, equipment manager.

Spruced-Up Passing Game Pleasing To Potter Coach

While East Liverpool High's running game wasn't up to par Tuesday in a scrimmage at Campbell Memorial, head coach Bob Hedmond was more than satisfied with the Potters' passing game.

East Liverpool outscored Campbell Memorial five touchdowns to two. The Campbell eleven didn't score on the Potters' first defensive unit but added touchdowns late in the scrimmage against the second and fourth units.

THE POTTERS went to the air for three touchdowns as junior quarterback candidate Bob Maltarich threw for two touchdowns and senior Bob Forzano hit the bullseye with another besides scoring a touchdown himself on a 40 yard jaunt.

Maltarich hit veteran end Bill Hall with a pass on a play covering 30 yards and Earl Olmstead with a 35-yard TD toss. Olmstead was also on the receiving end of Forzano's flip which netted a TD on a 40-yard play.

RALPH SMITH, a junior half-back candidate, added the other touchdown for the Potters.

"I was pleased with the passing game which was good as indicated by the three touchdowns. We have an awful lot of work to do on blocking and the running game. Campbell was big and gave us a little trouble on the ground," Hedmond said.

"WE NEED more brushing up on timing and blocking in the line," the Potter coach added.

Bob Bowyer, a two-year letterman at fullback, was ready to go full scale today after laying off for over a week with a hip injury.

THE POTTERS took part in a football clinic Tuesday night at Patterson Field sponsored by the Blue and White Nonpareil Club. Individuals were permitted to take pictures of the Potter players and all phases of the football program at ELHS including medical treatment, insurance and equipment were discussed.

Cassady, Stephens Get Grid Walking Papers

By The Associated Press
Howard (Hopalong) Cassady and Sandy Stephens, All-Americans in their college days, have received their walking papers as pros.

Cassady, who won the Heisman Trophy in 1955 as the top college player while at Ohio State, was placed on waivers by the Philadelphia Eagles of the National Football League as the American pros reached a mandatory cut-down date.

Stephens, All-America quarterback at Minnesota in 1961, was dropped by the Montreal Alouettes of the Canadian Football League with the Als paying him for the remainder of his three-year no-cut contract.

"Bluntly, we're paying him off," said Dan Pickett, director of the Alouettes' player development.

Stephens signed a $70,000 contract in 1962 and has two years to go. He was unimpressive as a rookie last season and was benched as overweight in the Alouettes third game of the season last week.

Cassady, 29, a six-year-NFL veteran with Detroit, Cleveland and the Eagles, played 10 games with Philadelphia as a split end last season before he was sidelined with a broken right leg. He has played only a few minutes in Philadelphia exhibitions this season and his release apparently means that Baylor rookie Ronnie Goodwin has won the job.

He was the best known player to get the ax as the NFL and American Football League made cuts, the NFL teams cutting their rosters to 43, the AFL to 38.

Yanks Whip Bosox Twice

Bouton Hurls No-Hitter For Eight Frames

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

They belong to New York pitchers Al Downing, 22, a lefty, and Jim Bouton, 24, a right-hander. Between them they contain the promise of Yankee domination of the American League for years to come.

Sunday, Downing had a no-hitter going for seven innings and finished with a two-hit shutout, running his record to 10-4. It was Bouton's turn Tuesday. He had a no-hitter for eight innings, and finished with a two-hit, 5-0 shutout, running his record to 18-6, best on the Yankee staff.

Ralph Terry, at 27, old only by comparison, finished off the two-night doubleheader against Boston with a five-hit, 3-0 job. It was his 15th victory and stretched the Yankees' bulging league lead to 12½ games.

In other AL games, Chicago pulled into a share of second place with idle Minnesota by beating Cleveland 6-1, Kansas City edged Baltimore 2-1 in 10 innings and Detroit topped Los Angeles 4-1 in the only games scheduled.

In the National League, the first-place Los Angeles Dodgers nipped Cincinnati 3-2, San Francisco walloped St. Louis 7-2, Milwaukee edged Houston 3-2 behind Warren Spahn, Pittsburgh got two unearned runs in the ninth and beat New York's Met 2-1, and Chicago tripped Philadelphia 4-3.

The twin shutouts by Bouton and Terry were the third and fourth in the Yanks' last five games. The Yankee staff has allowed only two runs in the last 51 innings, both in a 2-1, 12-inning loss to Chicago in the second game of a Sunday doubleheader.

Bouton is one of the big surprises. He had only a 7-7 record last season, started this year in the bullpen and has blossomed into the Yanks' No. 1 right-hander.

The hard-throwing youngster had allowed only two base runners and had retired 22 men in order before Boston pinch hitter Russ Nixon singled past his ear leading off the ninth.

Bouton let down a bit after that and Gary Geiger followed with another single, but he got out of it without trouble.

The Yanks gave him all the backing he needed with two first-inning runs on singles by Bobby Richardson and Elston Howard and doubles by Tom Tresh and Hector Lopez.

The White Sox' Dave Nicholson struck out four times, setting a major league season record of 144, but Tom McCraw and Pete Ward each drove in two runs with a homer and single in Chicago's victory over the Indians.

BASEBALL HEROES

PITCHING—Jim Bouton, Yankees, pitched eight innings of no-hit ball before Russ Nixon singled to lead off ninth, and wound up with two-hitter in 5-0 first-game victory over Boston. Yankees also took night cap of two-nighter, 3-0.

BATTING—Willie Mays, Giants, became 10th major leaguer to hit 400 home runs, connecting in the third inning of 7-2 triumph over St. Louis.

40,000 Expected At Rich Trot

Speedy Scot, 13 Others Ready For Hambletonian

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

DU QUOIN, Ill. (AP)—A field of 10 colts and 4 fillies—some of them just recovering from weakening virus infections—appeared set for the $115,588 Hambletonian Stake today.

The blue ribbon fixture for 3-year-old trotters will carry the sixth richest purse since its 1926 beginning, with $56,619 going to the winner and prize money through five places.

A record crowd of about 40,000 was expected in the Du Quoin State Fairground, where parimutuel betting is prohibited by state law.

The overwhelming 2-5 favorite on the unofficial line was Speedy Scot, the juvenile trotting champion of 1962 owned by Castleton Farm, Lexington, Ky., and trained and driven by Canadian-born Ralph Baldwin, 47.

Speedy Scot, winner of five out of six starts this season and $182,091 in two years, is given a chance by harness racing experts to break the Hambletonian mile record of 1:58.2 by Harlan Dean in 1961.

Cheer Honey, top trotting filly as a 2-year-old, has been wearing an improvised oxygen mask twice daily since getting a virus infection last weekend.

B. F. Coaltown, second choice with Cheer Honey at 4-1, also has been breathing medicated oxygen for a throat infection that he had a month ago.

Other Hambletonian starters who had virus trouble earlier in the season include Diggs Dell, Bluff Hanover, Careless Hanover and Filter.

Another trotter who may be under par is Star Act, who has been suffering from a bone chip in her left knee.

The Hambletonian is raced in mile heats an hour apart. The first will go off at 2:30 p.m., EST. The first horse to win two heats is the champion.

Bouton Really Wanted No-Hitter But Missed

By JOE REICHLER

Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Jim Bouton, the new right-handed ace of the New York Yankees, will have none of this nonsense of shrugging off the lost chance for a no-hitter.

"I really wanted it," Bouton barked in the dressing room after a lead-off, ninth-inning single by pinch hitter Russ Nixon of Boston spoiled his bid for a hitless game at Yankee Stadium Tuesday night.

"I knew from the start that I had a chance and I was really bearing down from the fourth inning on."

"But I made a stupid pitch to Nixon. The situation called for a breaking pitch but like a dope I threw him a fast ball. I figured I'd fool him."

Nixon's hit, a clean smash through the middle of the infield, was followed immediately by a lined single to right by Gary Geiger but Bouton settled down to retire the side without any scoring and won 5-0 for his 18th victory.

The 24-year-old Bouton still was berating himself long after Ralph Terry followed his performance with a five-hitter for a 3-0 Yankee triumph and a double shutout for the American League leaders.

Bouton, after permitting two first inning baserunners on an error and a walk, had retired 22 in a row when Nixon batted in the ninth for relief pitcher Jack Lamabe.

But he still wanted that no-hitter.

"I remember pitching one for Bloom Township High School in Chicago Heights, Ill., in the state tournament back in 1957," Bouton said. "But in three years in the minors I didn't even pitch a shutout, let alone a no-hitter."

"If I had to, I would have taken that liner Nixon hit in my mouth. I would have deserved it, too."

Miami U.'s New Grid Coach Waits Drills On Friday

OXFORD, Ohio (AP)—Miami University's new football coach, Bo Schembechler, will greet a crew of 61 varsity candidates here Friday.

It will be strictly a checking in process. Saturday will be devoted to physical examinations and picture-taking and then will come the start of drills on Sunday.

After Sunday, there will be two-day drills for a couple of weeks in preparation for the season's opening game against Xavier Sept. 21.

Schembechler, who is succeeding Johnny Pont, now at Yale, will inherit a squad that includes 25 lettermen from last year's team which had an 8-1-1 record.

Four of Miami's top backs of 1962 are returning—quarterback Ernie Kellerman, halfbacks Scott Tyler and Bill Neumeier and fullback Tom Longworth.

Gift Of $500 Ends Existence Of Chester High Band Group

The contribution of $500 to the newly-organized Oak Glen High School Band Parents Association, announced today by the Purple and Gold Band Mothers of Chester, marks the final stage of 30-year career of the Chester organization.

The Purple and Gold Band Mothers, which has now disbanded and its members merged with the new high school unit, had some $700 in its treasury, and the remaining $200 will be used for the junior high school band group in Chester, Mrs. Alvin Reed, president, said.

The Chester High School band was organized in 1929 under Howard H. Cochran, and in 1931 entered the Ohio Valley Band Tournament, receiving a third-place in Class B playing and fifth in marching.

The band won first place in marching and third in playing in 1931, but the next year ended first in playing but third in marching, due to lack of uniforms.

Mothers of the band members formed the Purple and Gold group in May 1933 to obtain uniforms and adequate equipment. The first officers were Mrs. Harry Oyster, president; Mrs. Margaret Cook, vice president; Mrs. Joseph Allen, secretary, and Mrs. Frank Huff, treasurer.

Uniforms costing a total of $2-school bands were Charles McKinney and Dale Lutton of Weirton, Larry Clark of Chester, Mrs. Frances Freshwater Egan of Islip, N. Y., Mrs. Alyce Ann Eppley McDevitt of Chester and James Peddycord of Laughlins Corners.

Beaver Local Bus Schedule Is Unchanged

Regular bus routes and time schedules will be observed in Beaver Local School District for the first full-day session Wednesday, George VanHorne, executive head, announced today.

However, VanHorne cautioned all students to be at pickup sites early the first day.

The school cafeterias will operate the opening session, he added. Teachers will meet Tuesday morning at 9:30 at the Public School for briefing and announcements. Afternoon sessions for the teachers will be held at the individual schools, according to VanHorne.

A total of 2,400 or more students are expected to be enrolled for the fall term, a boost of from 50 to 75 over the 2,350 of 1962-63, the executive head reported.

The teaching staff is complete, he said.

One Of 2 Accused In Slaying 2 Officers Killed In Hideout

NEW YORK (AP)—Frank Falco, one of two men charged with shooting two policemen to death in New Jersey — was killed by police bullets in his hotel hideout early today.

Falco screamed and fought with detectives who caught him asleep. Hit by seven bullets, he kept on cursing and snarling as he lay dying.

Falco tried to grab a gun from Detective Lt. Thomas Quinn during the fight. But Quinn held onto the gun and fired its six bullets. Another detective fired three shots.

Falco, 25, Astoria, Queens, New York City, was indicted Tuesday on murder charges in Bergen County, N.J.

Indicted with him was Thomas (Rabbi Tom) Trantino, 27, of Brooklyn, who still is at large. Bergen County Prosecutor Guy W. Calissi identified the two men as the killers of the policemen in the Angel Lounge, a tavern in Lodi, N.J., Monday.

Sgt. Peter Voto, 40-year-old father of three, and Gary Tedesco, 23, a police appointee about to be sworn in, had gone to the tavern to investigate a report of shots fired.

Police Tuesday arrested ex-convict Carlo Benedetto, 27, alias Rocco Bennet, on a charge of selling one or more pistols to Falco and Trantino, friends of his. Bail was set at $15,000.

School Guard Staff Studied

City officials are scheduled to complete work soon on compiling a list of about a dozen men and women who will serve as adult school crossing guards when the new term begins Wednesday.

Safety-Service Director Robert Owen said today he anticipates little change from last year's staff, but all the individuals will have to be contacted by telephone to learn if they are willing to serve again.

Police Chief Americo J. Radeschi and Patrolman Charles A. Winters, who supervises the guard system, are assisting in compiling the list. When the guards have been named, Officer Winters expects to call a general meeting to issue instructions on their duties in the new term.

The guards supervise children crossing streets near schools and at busy crosswalks in other areas. Several traffic lights that have been out of service or acting as warning blinkers during the summer will be turned on again when classes resume.

Two of the lights are on Lisbon St. in Pleasant Heights—one near the Pleasant Heights School and the other at N. Shady Ln. Dr. near Boring Ln., Fisher Park. They have been operating as summertime blinkers.

Neville School's light system also will go back into service after being turned off for the summer. On St. Clair Ave. at Maplewood is a single red light operated by the school crossing guard.

Just outside the city limits on Route 267 is another school crossing light that has been functioning as an amber blinker during the summer. It is on Lisbon St. at LaCroft. The signal was placed in service at the beginning of last term by the State Highway Department.

Club Hears Talk By School Nurse

Mrs. Jean Tipton reviewed her duties at school nurse of the Wellsville system at a meeting of the Wellsville Kiwanis Club Tuesday noon at Platt's Tea Room.

She said she gives examinations to uncover difficulties. In the case of eye checks and other troubles, the parents are notified and asked to take the child to a doctor.

Mrs. Tipton refers needy cases for glasses to the Kiwanis Club. A check is then made and the club purchases the glasses as a project.

The eye treatment very often helps the student do better work, she said. There also are many dental problems.

She said dentists have co-operated when the parents cannot afford proper care.

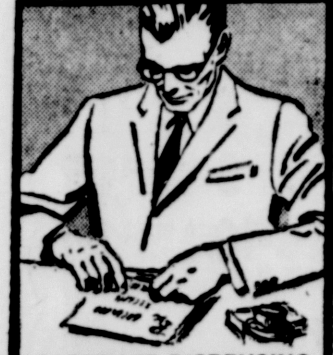

Mrs. Tipton also pointed out that many cases of bad tonsils have caused ear trouble. She said the physicians have co-operated in setting up operations. Many times the teachers have helped finance operations when the parents cannot afford them, she added.

Henry Berry, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Berry, 445 Penn Ave., Midland, was in "fair" condition with fractured legs, head and chest injuries. Fred Wright, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Wright, 933 Commerce St., Wellsville, was in "good" condition with skull and leg injuries. Both were passengers.

County Plans To Seek Vote For 2 Levies

Commissioners advised the County Election Board at a meeting Tuesday that they will submit resolutions asking ballot places at the Nov. 5 general election for a vote on renewal of county welfare and tuberculosis care levies.

Commissioners have indicated to seek the vote, but Tuesday's notification was the first official action. Both now are in effect for six-tenths of a mill.

The Election Board said the commissioners may ask an increase in the welfare levy to sixth and a half tenths of a mill, the maximum permitted by state law, and resubmit the TB levy for half a mill.

The measures probably will be submitted for a five-year term, the board added. They would raise to 26 the number of special questions and issues on the November ballot.

Meanwhile, the board rejected a written request from Chester Whitehouse, Republican candidate for a new term as East Palestine Council president, who sought to have his name removed from the November ballot. He gave no reason.

The Election Board pointed out the deadline for withdrawals fell Aug. 16, the 80th day prior to the election. The deadline for the ballot vacancy to be filled by the GOP committee fell Aug. 21, the 76th day prior to the election, the board added.

Since both the deadlines have passed, Whitehouse's request was denied and he will be advised to that effect, the board said.

Democrats have charged that Whitehouse cannot continue to serve in the political post because he also holds a Civil Service job with the State Highway Department. East Palestine Council is scheduled to meet Tuesday night after a recess since June. Officials said Whitehouse may submit his resignation then.

In other action, the board checked proofs of ballots submitted by the Wellsville Publishing Co., which has the contract for furnishing tickets for the Nov. 5 vote.

Arson Investigation Turns Up First Leads

Two leads which appear "good" at present have been turned up in the arson investigation of the weekend fires at the Riverview Orchids, Inc., facilities on Anderson Blvd.

But, authorities pointed out there is no direct evidence linking anyone with the fires.

Asst. Fire Chief James Pelley said this morning that a check is being made on "two leads which seem to be good under the present circumstances."

The official ruling of arson was made late Monday after the damaged buildings were checked by Deputy State Fire Marshal Mike J. Melillo of Youngstown, an arson specialist. The search started immediately for a "firebug."

The team making the investigation includes Pelley, who handles arson investigations for the city department, Melillo, the sheriff's office, city police and officers of the Liverpool Township volunteer department.

The men spent Tuesday at the complex interrogating employees.

About six were questioned yesterday and others will be quizzed later.

Yesterday's questioning did clear up the matter of a person seen running from the site of the second blaze Sunday afternoon. The main fire, which caused about $150,000 damage, hit late Saturday afternoon.

Pelley said the man who observed the individual apparently running away from the scene Sunday afternoon was about the fifth of sixth person to arrive. Others had spotted the blaze before him and they said they were hurrying here and there to obtain extinguishers and garden hoses to help fight the blaze.

Pelley said the investigators feel confident that the person supposed to have been running away was one of these employees. Melillo was called to Cuyahoga Falls to begin another investigation today but will return here Tuesday.

Officials said something was added to the fire Sunday afternoon to make it burn faster and it is believed that Saturday's blaze also was "fueled."

The fire Sunday was a clear-cut case of incendiarism. A check showed several other blazes of a much smaller nature the past few months in the greenhouse complex were not accidental.

Pottery Lists 1963 Income

EAST PALESTINE — Income of $47,450 for 1963 has reported at the annual stockholders meeting of the W. S. George Pottery Co. attended by about 30 Tuesday night at the American Legion home.

Expenditures amounted to $46,000. C. D. Brittain, director and trustee of the firm, which went out of production a number of years ago, reported.

All nine directors were returned at the 45-minute meeting which stockholders had been urged to attend to prevent "outside interests from obtaining control of the firm," according to a spokesman.

However, M. J. Capozzi of Canonsburg, who had asked for cumulative voting of his shares over the weekend, said he only wanted to assure his continuance with the firm and had no thought of seeking to dominate the directors.

Included in the income was $39,000 in rents from the Royal China Co., which is using the George plant, and $8,000 from the sale of miscellaneous furniture and equipment during the past year.

Expenditures included $13,500 in final payment to the Small Business Administration for a $250,000 loan in 1958, $10,000 in back taxes, $9,000 in back wages and $6,000 in interest payments to stockholders for the first half of 1959.

Unpaid accounts include $4,500 to the city of East Palestine for utilities and $3,000 to the East Ohio Gas Co. for gas.

800 At Performances Of Circus At Midland

About 800 persons attended the two performances of the firemen's circus at Crucible Field in Midland Saturday night. Shows were held at 2 and 8 p. m. by Hoxie's performing elephants.

A parade was held in the evening, with about 15 units participating with borough officials, animals from the circus and the Midland High School Band.

An old-fashioned water battle was held Friday night at Lincoln park.

Judge To Get Arguments In Welfare Case

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff is scheduled to hear arguments Thursday at 1 p. m. in a defense motion that seeks to require Prosecuting Atty. G. William Brokaw to furnish a bill of particulars to a woman accused of making false statements to the county branch of the Ohio Division of Aid for the Aged.

Mrs. Eliza J. Wooley, 739 Green Ln., is the defendant in an affidavit signed by Mrs. Edith Hilditch of East Liverpool, manager of the county office.

She is accused of making false representations Sept. 30, 1960, "with the intent of obtaining aid to which she was not entitled or a higher rate of aid than that to which she was entitled."

Action on the case dates back to July, when the charge first was taken into court.

The bill of particulars first was requested several weeks ago by Mrs. Wooley's counsel, the law firm of Aronson and Fineman. But the prosecutor filed a reply in which he said she was not entitled to the bill of particulars because the alleged offense is a misdemeanor and the affidavit lists the defense "in ordinary and concise language, and gives the defendant ample notice."

The defense then countered with the motion seeking a court order to require the prosecutor to file the bill of particulars.

That's the motion that will be argued tomorrow.

Mid-County GOP To Meet Sept. 5

LISBON — Mrs. Letha Astry of Salem, 18th District committee-woman, will be guest speaker for the Mid-County Republican Club at 7:30 p. m. Thursday, Sept. 5, in the new Columbiana County GOP headquarters here.

Pike said the AFL - CIO have invited Republicans of Columbiana, Mahoning and Trumbull Counties to participate in Labor Day activities at Idora Park, Youngstown. Republicans of the three counties will sponsor a dance from 7:30 to 11 p. m. in the park ballroom.

Prize winners in the GOP tent at the County Fair Thursday through Monday included R. E. Murphy, Salem; George Gough, Hammondsville; Miss Pat Black, East Liverpool; Mrs. Jean Fiber, Leontonia; and David Patterson, Leontonia. Wilbert Jones, Leontonia, received the $50 Savings Bond awarded by the GOP Central Committee.

Hearing Planned On City's Budget

City Auditor Lawrence C. Applegate has scheduled a public hearing Friday, Sept. 6, at 4 p. m. on the city budget for 1964 which was approved by Council Monday night.

State law requires the auditor to hold the budget 10 days for public inspection and then conduct the hearing. The figures then will be forwarded to the County Budget Commission at Lisbon, which will make the final determination on the amounts the city can expect to receive next year.

It has been at least 21 years since any citizen appeared for the budget hearing, a formality required by state law.

Council gave unanimous approval to the figures, which estimate income of $519,055 for the general fund next year, down $13,820 from the $532,875 the city will spend for the same purposes this year.

Chief, Aide Returned By Civil Defense Unit

Herman Heiney was retained as chief and Joe Arcuragi, assistant chief, at a meeting of the St. Clair Township Civil Defense Tuesday night at the Glenmoor fire station. Kenneth Myers, director, presided.

The new members were recruited for the police team. New members, 18 years old and up, are needed for the fire team. Interested persons may call 385-0849 or 385-4399.

The first aid team has ordered uniform hats and arm patches.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Movie Fans And Relatives Hard To Please

Young David Wolper, producer of those historical documentaries on Hollywood ("Fabulous Era," "The Great Stars," etc.), feels terribly unappreciated. "Even my relatives say, 'Hey, Dave, that business of putting all that old stuff together is all right & what it take you, a couple a days?'" Hal Humphrey

"Actually, it takes nine months to produce one hour of that old stuff," but no one believes it, especially my relatives," says Wolper, a touch of self-pity in his voice.

RELATIVES. critics and movie fans also figure they could do a better job of it. No matter what famous scenes Wolper's researchers dig up on Clark Gable or Bette Davis, these kibitzers remember better ones.

The TV networks obviously don't share this skepticism about Wolper's efforts. CBS is rerunning two of his Hollywood documentaries this summer (next one is Tuesday), after both had been aired last season by ABC-TV.

Still, Wolper feels a sense of frustration, he says, and from it has been born his next project—a new series called "Hollywood and the Stars."

NBC-TV has scheduled it for 9:30 p.m. following "Monday Night at the Movies," but Wolper says his series in no way will try to match up stars as a kind of sequel to the movie.

"Hollywood and the Stars" is a half-hour show which Wolper insists won't be of the fan magazine variety, but "dignified studies" of movie stars and trends of the past.

The premiere show on Sept. 30 is titled "That Man Called Bogart." Besides using the stock film from old Bogart movies, Wolper has interviewed several people who were close to the star (Peter Lorre, Lauren Bacall, John Huston) and their comments will be heard during the unwinding of the Bogart career.

"TWENTY-FIVE per cent of it will be new film," says Wolper, "and the movie clips are not just picked at random, but each scene helps tell the Bogart story. 'Casablanca,' for example, was the first time he was cast as a lover."

Wolper also went to considerable trouble and expense to collect clips from 18 pictures in which Bogart was killed off and the other guy gets the girl.

Other individual star profiles in the series will be done on Bette Davis, Al Jolson, James Cagney and Kirk Douglas. The only turn-down Wolper has received so far was from Cary Grant, who is as allergic to TV as movie producers used to be until they found money in it.

"WE WERE GOING to do one on Veronica Lake, who you may remember was discovered some months ago working as a waitress in a cocktail lounge, but we decided the Veronica Lake story has no ending yet," Wolper reports.

For Hollywood, anyone who has gone from stardom to slinging cocktails already has written finis to his or her story, but of course there is always the chance of a comeback. Apparently Wolper, like all Hollywood producers, is looking for the happy ending.

Wolper rejects personalities for his profiles unless they fall into what he calls an "immortal" category. One of his associates suggested Pat Boone as a candidate, but Wolper turned him down.

INCLUDED in the new "Hollywood and the Stars" series will be segments devoted to movie trends, i.e., Westerns, lovers, gangsters, musicals. Most of them, however, will be the personal biography type.

One of these should be devoted to a successful Hollywood producer by the name of Wolper, whose New York relatives think he is out just pasting old movie film together.

Social Security Office Here Aids 1,226 Applicants

In the first six months of 1963, the East Liverpool Social Security

Office helped 1,226 district persons apply for social security benefits.

The applications were from 319 wage earners, 61 self-employed and 587 dependents of workers, such as wives, widows, children, dependent parents, and dependent husbands or widows.

An additional 156 applications were received from disabled workers, 14 from disabled children, and 79 from dependents of disabled persons.

The East Liverpool office also issued new Social Security cards to 1,581 people who are just starting to earn protection through their work.

Walter I. Kimbro, East Liverpool district manager, said 12,489 persons in Columbiana County are currently receiving monthly benefits. The dollars coming into the county through these benefits totalled $5,216,138 during the period January through June 1963. Kimbro noted that the number of beneficiaries increased significantly over the 1962 figures.

Johnson Wins Mississippi Governor Bid

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Lt. Gov. Paul Johnson Jr., militant anti-Kennedy segregationist, ended 16 years of political frustration today, winning the Democratic nomination for governor of Mississippi by a record vote.

Johnson overwhelmed former Gov. J.P. Coleman after a bitter campaign which centered on white voters' deep-rooted opposition to President Kennedy and his civil rights program.

Johnson reminded voters he still faces federal contempt of court charges for his part in temporarily blocking Negro James H. Meredith from marching in the University of Mississippi last September. He also called Coleman the "Kennedy satellite candidate."

Coleman supported the President in the 1960 presidential race. Coleman argued that he was anti-Kennedy, too, saying he erred in 1960.

With 1,861 of the state's 1,877 precincts reporting, Johnson had 258,427 votes, highest ever given a gubernatorial candidate, to 193,021 for Coleman.

Johnson faces Republican Rufel Phillips Nov. 5 in what may be more than the usual token race in this overwhelmingly Democratic state. An independent also has announced for the general election.

Johnson, son of a former governor, lost three previous races for the nomination, including one to Coleman in the 1955 runoff. He also was beaten in a race for the U.S. Senate before being elected lieutenant governor four years ago.

Gov. Ross Barnett, barred by law from succeeding himself, joined the crowd of cheering Johnson fans at an election party. He said he voted for Johnson.

There was no indication of how the state's estimated 30,000 Negro voters would vote. However, in a mock election for unregistered Negroes, Coleman got 26,721 votes to 940 for Johnson.

Camp Fire Girls Demonstration Slated Sept. 7

A camp demonstration day was planned when the Board of Directors of Camp Fire Girls, Inc., met Monday night at Bryan Recreation Center in Dixonville.

Mrs. Eugene Seeley and Mrs. Dan Henderson will supervise the event scheduled at 1:30 p. m. Sept. 7 at the center. The theme is "Let's Go Camping." Further plans will be announced.

Sidney C. Porter Jr., president, presided. The camp committee announced tentative plans for several other events.

Mrs. Harriet Dively of Grand Rapids, Mich., regional advisor, will be here Sept. 18-20 to confer with leaders and committee members and conduct training sessions.

Mrs. H. F. Banfield announced the second course in the hospital aide training program will be held Oct. 1.

Bluebird flights, usually held in May, will be scheduled in September. Discussion was held on beginning another charm course, to be conducted by those who completed the sessions last year.

Next meeting is Sept. 18 at the center.

Auto Window Broken As Vandal Hurls Rock

On East End woman was frightened but unhurt when a stone hurled by a vandal smashed an auto window just a few inches from her face as she drove on Park Way Tuesday afternoon, police said.

Mrs. Donald Schneider of Lee St. telephoned Patrolman Charles A. Winters, desk officer at headquarters, at 1:34 p. m. and reported an unknown person had fired a bullet into the window as she drove south on Park Way about 200 yards from Broad St.

Patrolman Orin C. Smith, who investigated, determined it was a rock hurled by a vandal — not a bullet — which shattered the window in the right front of the car. He said the stone apparently was thrown from the side of Park Way which lies in Taylor Township.

Democrats Plan Election Rallies For All 4 Wards

Plans for campaign rallies in all four city wards during September were made Tuesday night when the Men's Democratic Club and the Democratic Central Committee met jointly in the Report Building at E. 6th St. and Broadway.

The meetings will be held a week apart in private homes, with the dates and places to be set later, according to Leo Payne, central committee chairman. The public will be invited to meet the candidates, he said. Councilman Frank Duffy, mayoral nominee, is Sept. 7 at the center. The theme is "Let's Go Camping." Further plans will be announced.

Named to arrange the sessions were these candidates: First Ward, Donald Hancock, Floyd Murray and E. C. Apigatze; Second Ward, Arch Smith, James Cunningham and Norman Rich; Third Ward, Donald Smith; Fourth Ward, Payne, James Flasco and William Davis.

Don Gooney of Columbiana, county chairman, distributed tickets for the annual Jefferson-Jackson Day Dinner Sept. 21 at Beaver Local High School, at which Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson will be principal speaker.

East Liverpool will be limited to 200 tickets in order to assure equitable distribution to all parts of the county, he said.

Norman Bucher, picnic chairman, reported on the annual outing held July 21 at Valley Park. Twenty-eight attended.

The groups will meet again jointly Sept. 10. Hancock heads the Democratic Club.

Area Delegation Invited

Rhodes Will Snip Ribbon
At Freeway's North End

Gov. James A. Rhodes has accepted an invitation to participate in a ceremony Tuesday, Sept. 17, at Ashtabula marking dedication of the first northern stage of the Lake Erie - Ohio River Highway.

Words of the governor's acceptance were received Tuesday by E. R. Chandler, executive manager of the Chamber of Commerce and one of three Columbiana County directors of the Lake Erie - Ohio River Highway Association, which will join in the dedication.

A. P. Morris of Salem is vice president of the association and Atty. Francis H. Lang is immediate past president. They also hold board posts.

Chandler was advised of Rhodes' acceptance in a letter from A. C. Patterson, secretary of the highway association and manager of the Ashtabula Chamber, which is in charge of the dedication program.

P. E. Masheter, State Highway Department director, also has been invited to the dedication, but has not confirmed that he will attend.

Gov. Rhodes will cut a ribbon officially dedicating the highway in a morning program. Then he will speak briefly. A luncheon will follow at the Swallows Restaurant, at which he also will speak. Officials will be invited from each of the four counties through which the lake - river road will be built — Columbiana, Mahoning, Trumbull and Ashtabula.

In the case of Columbiana County, the invitations will be given to Commissioners Walter A. Hunston, Galen Greenman and James Boyd, Engineer Charles O. Snyder and State Rep. Clarence L. Wetzel.

The Chamber's highway committee has been asked to form an area delegation to attend the ceremony.

State officials and visitors from throughout the four - county area attended a ceremony in East Liverpool late last fall that marked completion of the first southern stage of the highway.

Known locally as the California Hollow - West End Freeway, it is the southernmost stage of the lake - river road, which eventually will link river ports in East Liverpool with Lake Erie shipping facilities at Ashtabula.

The highway has been designated officially as State Route 11, but is known more commonly as the lake - river highway.

The four - county association of civic leaders was formed several years ago to encourage construction. As in the state's policy in such lengthy projects, it is being built periodically in stages. One recent estimate was that 10 years would be required for overall completion.

J. Paul Mossman is president of the highway association and also executive director of the Greater Youngstown Area Chamber of Commerce. He will serve as master of ceremonies for the Ashtabula program.

Cumberland Squire

Fines City Motorist

Jeffrey M. Calhoun, 17, of East Liverpool was fined $50 and costs for reckless driving at a hearing Tuesday before Squire John D. Herron at New Cumberland.

He was cited Aug. 20 by Constable Carl Durham.

Sherrell P. Perrine, 39, of Colliers R. D. 1 posted a $500 bond for his appearance Sept. 9 on a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol. This is his second offense. He was arrested Monday by West Virginia State Police.

Calcutta Kindergarten

Mrs. Robert Trotter, teacher, said the class is limited to 25 pupils. Interested parents may call Mrs. Trotter at 386-6832.

River Pools
Near Normal

Pools in district Ohio River dams were slowly returning to normal today after a huge release of impounded water to avoid interruption of boat traffic at Dam 17 at Marietta following damage to the lock from a towboat.

Henry Conway, lockmaster at the Stratton Dam, said the upriver pool was rising after release of water since the mishap in which the Jones & Laughlin Co. boat Vulcan's tow of 11 barges struck the gate in the single lock of the wicket-type Dam 17 at Marietta Monday.

Water was released by dams in the 150-mile stretch so the wickets at Marietta could be lowered to permit traffic to bypass the damaged lock.

Conway said the lowering of the pool below Stratton resulted in the brief grounding Tuesday of the towboat Charles Stevenson up-bound with 13 empties and six loaded barges. As the pool rose, the tow floated after half an hour's delay and resumed its trip upstream.

Wayne Cesiger, assistant lockmaster at Dam 10 above Steubenville, said more water may be released by district dams later, according to repair plans to be made by the U. S. Corps of Army Engineers at Pittsburgh.

A week or 10 days may be required to restore the Dam 17 lock to operation. Lack of rainfall in past weeks has added to the low stage of the river in some stretches, he said.

Scene Of Weirton
Pops Concert Change

A scheduled concert by the Pittsburgh Pops orchestra tonight at 8:30 at Weirton will be held at the Madonna High School instead of at the Community Center.

The change was necessary because the Center floor repairs are incomplete, officials announced.

Farm Truck Blamed

In Collision At Lisbon

LISBON — A New Castle driver told police a farm truck backed into his 1955 sedan Tuesday on Pritchard Ave., damaging the headlights, hood and front fenders.

Robert H. Thompson, 78, told police the collision occurred at 4:20 p. m.

Police said Thompson reported the other driver identified himself as Boyd Martin Marcum, no address listed, and agreed to pay for the damage. He left before police arrived, however, and they were unable to locate him.

Ex-Korean Premier

charges of slandering the government.

The 47-year-old Korean War hero and retired lieutenant general could be sentenced to 10 years in prison. No date was set for his court martial.

When Things Were Different

Let's Take A Look Back

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Let's take a look back along the way.
When the world is too much with us, the best escape is to recall a time when things were different.
Your memory is still hitting on all eight cylinders if you can remember when—Movie actresses were expected to have class and stature—like Clare Kimball Young.
Shirley Temple's dimples had been seen by more people than the Grand Canyon.
People said Enrico Caruso had a voice so powerful that when he sang in a small room it would break the windows.
It was part of the act in a Chinese restaurant for the waiters to pretend they couldn't understand English well. That kind of lent the place a shuddery sense of mystery.
The only people who ate pizza were those just over from the old country.
Rin-Tin-Tin earned more take-home pay than Lassie.
The greatest test of a middle-aged man's athletic ability was having to climb into the upper berth of a Pullman car.
You could always achieve a sound social position in the community by playing a good game of checkers.
No husband had to bother about keeping his wife's cigarettes lit—as good women didn't smoke in public.
No woman needed more than $5 to go to the grocery store, because who could carry home that much worth of groceries?

The common man was in favor of high income taxes because he felt only the rich would ever have to pay them.
Only cowboys wore high heels.
The people in comic strips were always slipping on banana peels, or being hit by flying bricks—but they never seemed to have any emotional problems.
It cost less to spend a full year in college than it now takes to send a small, squirmy child to camp for a month in the summer.
Many high school seniors could write in Latin an essay containing fewer misspelled words than one written in English by a modern student today.

If a girl had a tan you knew she was from the country. City girls prided themselves on their milk-white complexions.
People in most small towns never locked the front door unless they were going on a long trip.
You could impress the average gathering by whipping out a snapshot of yourself taken on top of Pike's Peak. That let them know you were someone who'd really been around.
You didn't have to land on the moon to become a hero. All you had to do was stop a runaway horse single-handed.

Preparing For Political Wars

Johnson's Riding Hunch Of Kennedy Re-Election

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson is happily preparing to return to the political wars next year, riding the hunch that President Kennedy is going to win re-election by a near landslide.
Although the President and Johnson reportedly never have discussed the matter, there is every indication they will be teammates again in a campaign they will carry vigorously into every corner of the nation.
Johnson, who campaigned in 43 states in 1960 when Kennedy won the presidency by a whisker, obviously is going to have to bear in 1964 the brunt of Southern Democratic resentment against Kennedy's endorsement of racial demonstrations, and his pressure on Congress to act on civil rights legislation.

But if the lanky, dark-haired Texan is disturbed by the prospect of going into the South to tell possibly unsympathetic audiences there that the time has come for all citizens to enjoy their constitutional rights regardless of color, he doesn't show it.
Neither is he perturbed by the likelihood that some of the party's liberals will grumble that he still is too tightly tied politically to conservative Dixie to suit their fancy.

If it was a wrench for Johnson to give up that power to become vice president, the compensation lay in the fact that he was one of two nationally-elected officials of the government and might, in time, become the head man.
For if all goes well in next year's campaign, Johnson will be pointing for 1968. Rep. Carl Albert, D-Okla., the House majority leader, already is on record with the prediction that Johnson "will succeed Jack Kennedy as President of the United States."
Johnson and Kennedy, who had some nasty things to say about each other when both were running for the 1960 Democratic presidential nomination, have surprised all concerned by getting along remarkably well.
This is attributed, in part, to Johnson's decision when he became vice president that he would not hold news conferences where reporters might get him into a position at cross purposes with the President, and that he would not interfere with operations of Democratic leaders in Congress.
He has kept these pledges and has stayed out of trouble in two fields that were mined with it.
Although he had a heart attack several years ago, Johnson keeps a pace that rivals that of the President, who at 46 is nine years his junior.

Will March Today
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Representatives from Columbus and nine other Central Ohio communities were in Washington today to participate in the "march for jobs and freedom."

8 Parochial Teachers Set At Wellsville

For the first time, the Immaculate Conception Parochial School in Wellsville will be departmentalized and there will be a teacher for each of the eight grades instead of some being combined as previously.

Fr. Gerald X. Curran announced the faculty as follows:

Miss Jane Murray, first grade; Sister Mary Ellen, second; Miss Laura Fisher of Canton, third; Miss Theresa Soldano, fourth; William Woiwovich of Youngstown, fifth; Sister Mary John of Holy Family, Poland, sixth; Sister Francis Xavier, principal and seventh, and Joseph Caporossi, eighth.

Instructors in the three upper grades, which are departmental, will be Sister Mary John, who will teach reading and social studies, Sister Francis Xavier, Science and religion, and Caporossi, math and English. Miss Fisher, Sister Mary John and Woiwovich are the new faculty members.

The enrollment is expected to be 168 compared to 155 in 1962 and each class will not exceed 25. The opening date of school will be announced later but sessions will begin at 9:15 a. m. and dismiss at 3:30 p. m. The public schools open next Wednesday.

Cleveland Indian coach Mal Harder won 223 games in his 20 years as a pitcher in the American League.

$200 Damage Results From Chester Mishap

Some $200 damage resulted to two cars in a collision on Carolina Ave. and 1st St. in Chester Tuesday afternoon at 12:20, police reported.
John W. Maddrell, 56, of Waynesburg was cited by Patrolman Clifford Bebout after his 1962 sports coupe hit a 1957 sedan operated by George Moncrief, 74, of Virginia Ave.
Police said Maddrell was headed south, making a left turn from 1st St. onto Carolina Ave. and his car hit the left front side of Moncrief's auto headed north on 1st St., turning onto Carolina Ave.
Maddrell posted a $15.50 bond for a hearing Saturday before Mayor Harry Abrams on a charge of failure to yield the right-of-way.

WALL FOUNDATIONS POURED. First concrete for the walls of the new nurses' home at City Hospital were poured Tuesday as construction of the $641,000 structure proceeded at a good clip with completion date set next June 1. The Potters Construction Co. is the general contractor for the four-story building to be known as the Harker-Metsch Nurses School and Residence designed by Robert Beatty, East Liverpool architect. The ironwork was erected quickly after foundation footers were poured when the work began shortly after the contract was let July 20. The U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare granted $205,000 for the project. The building will provide quarters for 64 students and consist of a self-contained educational unit with classrooms and conference rooms.

Stacey Explains Ohio's New Motor And Boat Titling Rule

LISBON — Ohio's boats and motors title bill, effective next Jan. 1, will add to the duties of clerks of courts throughout the state.

Carl L. Stacey, Columbiana County clerk of courts, today gave the following explanation of the new law to help sportsmen understand what is required of them:

The clerks of the different counties where purchasers or owners are residents will issue titles to watercraft over 12 feet in length and to motors 10 horsepower and over.

Certificates of title may be obtained, but are not required, for rowboats, eight - oared shells, canoes, non - powered rafts, barges, scows, non - powered sailboats less than 12 feet long and outboard motors less than 10 horsepower, as determined by the manufacturer's rating.

A watercraft or outboard motor acquired by an owner prior to next Jan. 1 need not be the subject of a certificate of title until it is mortgaged, sold or otherwise disposed of.

People who buy boats and motors prior to Jan. 1 will be able to obtain titles by presenting a manufacturer's or importer's certificate; or by proper bill of sale or sworn statement of ownership, the originals of which have been filed with the clerk, or a certified copy thereof; or by a certificate of title, bill of sale, or other evidence of ownership required by law of another state from which the watercraft or outboard motor was brought into Ohio.

The administrator of the Division of Watercraft will issue whatever regulations he considers necessary to make the new law operate effectively.

Stacey said the forms, titles, applications and regulations are similar to those in use for motor vehicles.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

DEAR HELOISE: We have highly polished floors in our bedroom. Not only did the beds slide when changing linens and turning mattresses, but the legs of the beds scratched the waxed floors.

One day I took little plastic sandwich bags and folded them several times (so they did not show) and put one under each leg. This not only keeps our beds from slipping but prevents the scratches!

I tried your idea of using plastic bags (that come from the cleaners) under our throw rugs to keep them from slipping. It works like a charm.

AMELIA HARRISON.

Now, aren't you a sweetie pie to pass along your hint? Think of the women who will use your idea! Bless you.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: If you take two pieces of corduroy and sew them together on the wrong side, then turn right side out, you will have ideal cover to keep the chill off when resting on a couch. And there is NO lint from it! My husband thinks it's the greatest.

This coverlet is grand to carry in the car—washes easily and requires no ironing.

MRS. F.

DEAR HELOISE: Grated parmesan cheese (which you buy in cans at the grocery store) makes delicious cheese biscuits! Just sprinkle some on top of your biscuits a few minutes before removing from the oven.

READER.

DEAR HELOISE: When traveling by car, here are some tips:

Keep swim togs, towels and plastic bags (for wet suits) in a large shopping or beach bag in the car trunk—thus, a swim by the wayside won't upset the luggage.

We always carry along some empty shopping bags. We use some of them for purchases you make along on the trip, and avoid crowding our suitcases.

Set one aside for soiled clothing as it accumulates. Thus, clean clothes stay separated in the suitcase. Also, this one bag of dirty clothes is ready for the laundry or laundromat at the end of the trip.

MRS. F. GROVER.

DEAR HELOISE: Mildew on white linen may be removed by dampening the marks with water, rubbing soap on them and covering them with "chalk" scraped into a powder form.

Work this WELL into the fabric with your fingers. Let set and then wash the linen in the ordinary way, drying it in the sun if at all possible.

SISTER M. ALBERTINE, C.S.B.

We have researched this with a chemist. He says that the chalk dust (scraper or powder) does absorb moisture and fungus, especially when mixed with thick soap suds and put out in the sun.

Another thing he suggests: If you don't have any chalk, use baking soda if it is applicable to the material. Test spot first. (This means to see if baking soda is safe for your material, etc.) Also, some spots might need a bleach (read directions on bottle) if they are extremely bad.

Thank you, Sister Albertine. HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: When you cut the lawn (or does your husband do it?) do you always wind up hitting a sprinkler "head" and ruining your lawn mower and the head?

If you finish all the clipping first...before you mow the lawn, you will see the "heads" and clearly miss them!

O. AUDREY.

DEAR HELOISE: Have you ever spoiled your camping trip by worrying about cleaning and scouring the black off all your pans after you get home? Well don't.

The next time you go camping, simply take a piece of bar soap and make a soap paste. Or, dip a bar of soft soap in water and spread this mixture over the outside of all your pans, and the coffee pot, before putting them over the fire.

The pan will "appear" to be black after using, but this will wash off just by wiping it with water and a wet sponge. I always use this method before I cook over open camp fires. Sure saves drudgery and lots of scrubbing.

SUSIE.

Heloise welcomes all mail, especially household hints which she can pass on to readers as space permits. However, because of the tremendous volume of mail she receives daily, Heloise is unable to answer all individual letters. She will answer readers' questions in her column whenever possible.

Historical Group Recognized For Plaque Donation

The East Liverpool Historical Society has received an official resolution of the Ohio Covered Bridge Committee, commending the society for its contribution for a marker for the Churchill Rd. covered bridge this summer.

The historic marker was dedicated at the bridge June 30. It is one of six covered bridges in Columbiana County, and county commissioners also received a resolution of commendation for aiding in the project.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Please excuse the mistakes in this letter. I have two black eyes and one of them is completely shut.

I married a man I knew only three weeks. He seemed like such a perfect gentleman I could hardly believe it when he knocked out my pivot tooth on our honeymoon.

He loses his temper over the silliest things. Like last night — he hit me because the TV broke down. He said I should "watch things."

We've been married less than seven months and I've already spent $3000 of my own money with the dentist. I've had so many bruises and shiners I've lost count. When I ordered beefsteak from the butcher yesterday he said, "To eat or for your eye?" I'm ashamed to go out in the neighborhood any more.

Please help me, Ann, but don't tell me to leave him. I love this man. He is truly wonderful between these spells. Thanks a lot. —QUEENIE.

Dear Queenie: So you love the man and you don't want me to tell you to leave him. Fine. Stay with him until he scrambles your brains and puts you in the hospital with a fractured skull.

Perhaps when your money is gone and your credit at the blood bank runs out, you'll write for some advice you can use instead of telling me what not to tell you.

Beautiful But Mum

Dear Ann: I am a college graduate, 26, and have been dating a very beautiful girl since last February. Lila is 21 and she is really terrific. The only thing missing is that she refuses to express an opinion.

Last night the two of us had dinner and instead of going to a movie I suggested a long drive. I wanted to make one last effort to get her to talk about something—anything.

Her contribution to four hours of conversation was as follows: "You can say that again." "Well, I'll be darned!" "Isn't that the truth?" "And how!" When I asked her direct questions she replied, "I don't know how I feel about that."

Why would a girl be so reluctant to express herself on any subject whatever? Please explain this mystery. —EIGHTH WONDER.

Dear eighth: Don't look now. Buddy Boy, but the girl is brainless. If she had an idea it probably would give her a headache. And if you can listen to "And how!" "You can say that again." "Well, I'll be darned!" for seven months and call the girl "terrific" you obviously don't require intellectual stimulation from your female companions.

Cheers From Teener

Dear Ann: Three cheers for you. You've scored again! You've given frustrated American parents across the continent the key to handling their children. In your reply to "Maple Leaf Mother" you said, "Teen-agers have a truly magnificent way of living up to their parents' high opinion of them."

I'm a teen-ager who can tell you from experience that this approach really works. I used to live next door to a girl my age who was being reared by an aunt and an uncle. They told her she was "no good" so often that the poor thing finally got into the worst kind of trouble. She had nothing to live up to.

My parents always have made me feel trustworthy. They just expect me to live up to their high opinion of me. And I would rather die than let them down. —TEEN 16.

Dear Teen: And three cheers right back to you. And a loud hurrah for your parents, too! Letters like yours brighten my day. It's good to hear from someone who chooses the high road and discovers it leads to happiness.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

2 IN MEMORIAM

In memory of John E. Smith who left us eleven years ago, August 28, 1952.
When the evening shades are falling and I'm sitting alone
In my heart there comes a longing
If you only could come home
They say time heals all sorrow
And helps us to forget
But time so far has only proved
How much I miss you yet
Although your soul is now at rest
And free from care and pain
This world would seem like heaven
If I had you back again
God gives us strength to carry on
And courage to heal the blow
But what it means to lose you
No one will ever know
You had no one a last farewell
Or even said goodbye
You were gone before we knew it
And only God knows why.
Sadly missed by wife, children and grandchildren.

-Junior Editors Quiz on WAVES

QUESTION: What causes waves in the ocean?

ANSWER: There are two kinds of waves: those found on the ocean itself and those formed by ocean waves when they pile up on shore. Except for tidal waves, which may be caused by volcanic eruptions, ocean waves are started by the pressure of the wind on the water's surface. This piles it up and pushes it along as we see in the top drawing. But it is not the same water particles which keep rolling along. Our drawing shows a floating buoy. It is lifted up in the first sketch and dropped in the second. But notice, as the wave has rolled along, the buoy has remained in the same place, just being lifted up and down. The rolling wave is an impetus or push, given by one group of water particles to the next.

When ocean waves reach a shelving beach (diagram) the impetus is arrested at the bottom because of the friction of the beach on the lower levels of water. But the impulse at the top keeps traveling and piles high up over the less moving lower water. Then it falls directly down in a tremendous smother of white foam. Our picture shows the fascinating but dangerous sport of surfboard riding which has been developed in Hawaii.

FOR YOU TO DO: Toss a bit of wood into a pond. Then throw in a rock nearby. The rock will start miniature waves which will travel outward. But they won't carry the bit of wood along; it will bob up and down, just like the buoy in our picture.

Anita Kvale of Fergus Falls, Minn., wins the daily grand prize of a 20 volume set of World Book Encyclopedia for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of The Review and you too may win a set.

Chaos Reigns Every Evening

Many parents of several children face a problem similar to the one told in the following letter from an Ohio mother:

"We have a son, ten, daughter, eight, another son, five and a son, 14 months. We are in our early thirties, have good health and relatively few financial worries. Dr. Garry Meyers ries. "We have a pleasant home. Still on most evenings the few hours between dinner and bedtime are chaotic. Perhaps you have suggestions which would allow us to spend the hours so that each child has some individual attention or something that could be done collectively which would be enjoyed by all of us.

"During good weather, this time is spent outdoors but on cold or wet days we have to stay in and chaos reigns. We don't choose to have the television used except for selected programs so that appliance doesn't solve our problems.

"We all like to read but there is a limit to the length of time in which I can sit and read aloud."

My reply in part:

IT WOULD BE wonderful if you could induce the two older children to take turns, during the early part of this period, at reading to the five-year-old. No doubt these older children have homework but they should do some reading from other than their school books.

Then these older children, when they must be indoors at this period, might like to play a variety of games, such as checkers, Chinese checkers, Flinch and various card games. Even the brother, five, might join in some of them. Also it might be a good time for the older children to make things for fun with tools, you and Dad helping and stimulating them and supplying them with sufficient equipment.

It's hardly a period for having neighbor children in except, perhaps, for playing non-running games, occasionally.

During this period, you should forbid running games and rough-house indoors. Instead of jawing when such occurs, assign the offender (or offenders) to sit unamused, doing nothing, where you can see him, for a definite period, say, of 20 or 30 minutes. It's fine that you limit radio and TV programs.

WORK OUT a definite bedtime period for each child, the baby going to bed first, the five-year-old about half an hour later and the older ones much later, perhaps together. This plan will enable each older one to see that he is treated differently because of his age and you parents to give more attention to the children retiring later.

When the weather is good, you have the problem, of course, of having these children come into the house at a desirable time without your going out to corral them. As the days grow much shorter, you will expect your children to make a bee-line for the house when the lights appear.

During long warm evenings you may wisely choose to have the younger children come into the house earlier. Rather rigid rules, strictly enforced, can make matters easier for the whole family.

Also you might find possibilities for making the evening meal a leisurely time for all, when the three older children might engage in conversation and relate their experiences of the day. How fine if these older children often told jokes and expounded riddles and if there is considerable smiling and laughter at the evening meal.
